

DINNER, "OPEN HOUSE" GIVEN BY MOTOR CLUB

A dinner Thursday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg for leaders of Gettysburg civic organizations and an "open house" at its newly redecorated headquarters in Lincoln Square marked the 30th anniversary of the Gettysburg Motor Club and the expansion of motor club services here.

Charles E. Pugh, Harrisburg, assistant manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, presided during the brief dinner program which preceded the "open house" during which many local residents visited the remodeled Lincoln Square AAA headquarters.

Harold Frowell, Harrisburg, attorney for the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, told the group at the dinner: "Gettysburg, because of the new importance it has achieved, deserves something better in the way of service than the motor club has been able to give in the last 30 years. We have never had complaints from club members here or from local residents about our service, but the Pennsylvania Motor Federation believes it is necessary to help the local club extend its services to the hundreds of thousands of visitors that come to Gettysburg every year."

New Manager Introduced
"The American Automobile Association, with which the PMP is affiliated, pioneered in highway safety, school safety patrols and driver training programs in the schools. We have been able to do those things because we are organized."

"Gettysburg needs certain types of services for the motoring public and the AAA expects to provide them. Through organization we are able to do things that would be impossible individually," he concluded. Mr. Pugh paid tribute to the assistance given by Henry M. Scharf in the improvement of headquarters.

DEMOCRATS' DOLLAR DRIVE PLANS OUTLINED

Plans for a "Dollars for Stevenson" drive in Adams County were outlined Thursday evening by County Democratic Chairman Fred G. Klunk at a meeting of the Adams County Democratic Men's Club at the Lincoln Logs restaurant, Lincoln Highway east.

The county drive will be part of a nation-wide campaign to seek contributions to the Democratic presidential campaign. Klunk said. The drive is designed to permit the "little Democrats and others" to have a share in the national program, he added.

Charles Rinehart Jr., New Oxford, was named chairman of the county solicitation. Other details of the campaign are to be announced in the near future with the setting up of the solicitation program, the county chairman said.

Ronald Guise, president of the Democratic Men's Club, presided at the meeting and introduced Chairman Klunk who served as master of ceremonies. Approximately 300 attended.

BOY SCOUTS TO DELIVER VOTE MATERIAL NOV. 5

Plans to distribute "door hangers" and other literature urging all citizens to vote were outlined Thursday evening at a meeting of the commissioners of the Black Walnut Boy Scout District at the engine house, E. Middle St.

Several thousands of the door hangers, representing Liberty Bells and urging voters to cast their ballot, have been made available to the district by the Boy Scouts of America and Freedoms Foundation in a joint effort similar to the one conducted during the last Presidential campaign to promote as large a vote as possible.

The literature states that the Scouts and Freedoms Foundation do not seek to influence the vote of any person for any candidate, but asks the voters as good citizens to cast their ballot in the election.

New Commissioners
Plans call for the Boy Scouts to distribute the literature on November 5.

Robert Gitt was introduced as neighborhood commissioner for cubbing in Littleton and Richard Kerschner as neighborhood commissioner for the Gardners area.

Plans were discussed to have several district commissioners attend a weekend conference on the work of neighborhood commissioners at the national Boy Scout training camp at Menden, N. J. in October.

Dies In X-2 Crash

Capt. Milburn G. Apt. 32, of Buffalo, Kansas, is pictured beside the Bell X-2 rocket plane in which he was killed Thursday when it crashed near Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. This photo was made several days ago as Apt. prepared to fly the experimental plane, which has established both altitude and speed records, for the first time.

Record-Holding AF Research Plane X2 Crashes; Pilot Killed

EDWARDS, Calif. (AP)—The speed and altitude record-holding Air Force plane X2, rocketing above 45,000 feet, developed unexplained trouble and crashed yesterday. The pilot was killed.

The needle-nose, swept-wing research craft, which had sped 1,900 miles an hour and climbed to a reported 126,000 feet on previous flights, ended its spectacular career in shattered wreckage on the desert 20 miles east of Edwards Air Force Base.

The body of the pilot, Capt. Milburn G. Apt. 32, still was strapped in the capsule cockpit section. He had apparently made no effort to escape by ejecting himself.

Apt. a 13-year Air Force veteran, died on his first flight in the X2.

47 Prisoners Seize Plane On Way To Concentration Camp

SALTA, Argentina (AP)—Forty-seven bedraggled but defiant Bolivian political prisoners, interned here after seizing their captors' plane in flight, pressed an appeal today for asylum in Argentina.

Argentine authorities conferred with Bolivia's ambassador in Buenos Aires and issued a guarded statement that the situation was being studied.

The fugitives, including leaders of the socialist Falange party, main opposition to Bolivia's government, overpowered their guards over Bolivia yesterday while being flown to a concentration camp near La Paz. One of the prisoners took over the controls and flew the government airliner, a four-engine DC4, the 450 miles to Salta.

"We preferred death in an airplane to life in a concentration camp," one of the group told reporters at Salta airport, 170 miles south of the Bolivian frontier.

Seized After Riot
The group included business men, students, a journalist, an accountant and several ranchers. They were arrested after last Saturday's antigovernment riots that caused four deaths in La Paz.

The government blamed the Falange for instigating the uprising. Observers said, however, that the real causes were high prices and food shortages.

Still dressed in their grimy prison uniforms, the escapees chatted with reporters at the airport before military authorities ordered them interned at the 5th Army Division headquarters near Salta.

They denounced the regime of Bolivian President Hernan Siles Zuazo and described as phony the amnesty proclaimed by the government before this year's presidential election.

Lt. Col. Andres Saucedo Lanza, former Bolivian military attaché in Chile who helped plot the escape, said he and many others had returned to Bolivia after the amnesty proclamation only to be arrested. Another of the group, 22-year-old Mario Ayala, of the newspaper Clarin of Santa Cruz, said there was no press freedom in Bolivia.

New Struggle For Power In Kremlin Seen In Red Moves

By JAMES F. KING
LONDON (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev was reported in trouble with some Soviet leaders today and may be seeking the support of Yugoslav President Tito for his policies of de-Stalinization and easing up on the East European satellites.

Press reports here and in Austria said a new struggle for power inside the Kremlin was back of the surprise trip by Tito to the Soviet Union in company with Khrushchev, the first secretary of the Soviet Communist party.

Without a word of explanation, Tito took off from Belgrade yesterday with Khrushchev, who had spent eight days in seclusion with the Yugoslav leader. With some of his closest lieutenants, Tito was reported at the Black Sea resort of Yalta today. Khrushchev was said to be planning to take him to the nearby Crimean resort of Sochi to see Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov.

JAYCEES PLAN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE IN OCT.

Plans for a membership drive starting October 1 and ending October 31 were outlined Thursday evening at a meeting of the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce at the engine house, E. Middle St. William Lentz, chairman of the membership committee, said his group will divide the Jaycees into two teams to seek new members during the campaign.

Other business Thursday evening included a report by Richard Deaner, chairman of the Voice of Democracy contest conducted annually by the Jaycees among high school students. The finalists in the contest will be selected October 25, he said, after which the final judging will take place during the following week to determine the local champion, who will be entered in a state competition. The Voice of Democracy contest winners write a speech on democracy which is then tape recorded by the author. The judging is based on the skill shown by the contestant both as an author and as a speaker.

The club voted to pay expenses for Larry Crouse who will represent the Adams County Senior Extension club at a "Youth Challenge Conference" to be held in New Hampshire starting October 12.

Final plans were made for the chicken barbecue Saturday evening from 5:30 to 7 o'clock at the Bendersville Community Hall. ORRTANNA MAN IN AUTO CRASH

A nurse's aide at the Waynesboro Hospital was returned there early Wednesday evening after she was thrown from her car while involved in a collision in Waynesboro en route to her home.

Hospital attendants said Mrs. Vera Catherine Berger, Hagerstown, sustained a laceration to her head, bruised shoulder and shock.

Mrs. Berger told police that she was driving south on S. Potomac St. at 5 p.m. and just before she reached the W. Eighth St. intersection she noticed two cars ahead had stopped. She braked her car, which swerved to the left and struck the left front side of an oncoming sedan driven by Clyde W. Hall, Ortanna R. 2.

Badly Damaged
The Hall auto plunged off the east side of the road, up an embankment and into a tree. The front end and left side were smashed. Mrs. Berger's convertible spun in a half circle and also ran off the east side of the road.

Mrs. Berger was thrown out of the vehicle as it spun and she landed on her back and shoulders. She was removed to the hospital by ambulance. Police said she would be charged with reckless driving.

Blocked Sheriff's Car
The justice agreed with Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz, who had brought the charge, that the violation was implied in the original information and amendment was made to "spell out" the violation of failing to obey an order of the sheriff and blocking the highway when the sheriff sought to drive his car into the Summit Mining Co. property near Aspers last Friday.

The charge was laid after the sheriff was called to the mining company property and found the "night crew" on the road, picketing as part of a strike there. The sheriff and his deputies pushed a truck from the road, and then, according to the sheriff's testimony, when he sought to drive into the plant, Baltzley stood in the road and prevented the sheriff from driving ahead. The sheriff then took Baltzley into custody and proceeded to the plant.

Three Testify
According to testimony given this morning by the sheriff, G. W. Ahl, president of the mining company, and Deputy Sheriff Blaine Walter, Biglerville, the strikers had told the sheriff he could proceed to the plant in response to the call by President Ahl, but that his deputies could not accompany him.

The sheriff said when he sought to proceed in his car, Baltzley blocked the way. Ahl said some of the strikers had lead pipes and he called the sheriff when he feared that violence would ensue.

The justice's office was jammed for today's hearing.

COUNTY YOUNG REPUBLICANS TO HELP DRIVE

Members of the Adams County Young Republicans Club, meeting Thursday evening at the Lincoln Building, agreed to participate in the Republican Finance campaign following a talk by Ray J. Kitzmiller, finance chairman.

Kitzmiller told the group that a semi-door-to-door solicitation is planned with each canvasser visiting about 20 persons to secure money for the Republican program.

Extension of the current membership drive of the Young Republicans was discussed. Sebastian R. Hafer, membership chairman, said the booth established by the group on Lincoln Square will be open weekends and teams will "set up shop" in various communities of the county to secure memberships.

Hear Candidates
The charter for the organization will remain open to October 31, it was decided.

Douglas Elliott, candidate for state senator, and Francis Worley, candidate for assemblyman, spoke. Mrs. A. W. Butterfield, Mrs. Kenneth Johns and Mrs. Floranna Hoke Fowler represented the Adams County Republican Women's Club at the meeting and offered their aid to the Young Republicans group which includes both men and women.

Plans were discussed for social activities including dinners and picnics next summer. The group voted to meet on the last Wednesday of the month, thus setting the date for the next meeting as October 31.

Littleton Road To Hanover Open

The Hanover-Littleton Road, closed for more than a year while being rebuilt, was opened for traffic today. Clyde Garber, Adams County superintendent of highways, announced.

The temporary route in use from Littleton to Hanover via Brunsdown, in use throughout construction of the three miles of the Hanover-Littleton road, was also lifted today, with removal of the signs by the county highway department workmen.

District officials of the Pennsylvania State Department of Highways are scheduled to inspect the new road Monday and, if it receives their approval, the highway will again become part of the state system again.

Work on the three miles of road began more than a year ago. The road reconstruction extended from Hanover to a section of the road rebuilt in 1954.

HOLD PICKET ON $500 BAIL FOR TRIAL IN COURT

Harold Baltzley, 40, Aspers R. 1, was held under $500 bail for court this morning following a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

Baltzley, represented by two attorneys, did not testify and entered a plea of innocent. Justice Snyder, after amending the information before him, found a "prima facie" case and held Baltzley for court disposition of the case. Baltzley entered his own bond for $500 to appear in court.

Attorney Harold Tull of the firm of Douglas, Hanlon and Rosenberg, Harrisburg, and Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, representing Baltzley, held that the information as originally read at the hearing did not represent any violation on the part of Baltzley.

The charge was laid after the sheriff was called to the mining company property and found the "night crew" on the road, picketing as part of a strike there. The sheriff and his deputies pushed a truck from the road, and then, according to the sheriff's testimony, when he sought to drive into the plant, Baltzley stood in the road and prevented the sheriff from driving ahead. The sheriff then took Baltzley into custody and proceeded to the plant.

Three Testify
According to testimony given this morning by the sheriff, G. W. Ahl, president of the mining company, and Deputy Sheriff Blaine Walter, Biglerville, the strikers had told the sheriff he could proceed to the plant in response to the call by President Ahl, but that his deputies could not accompany him.

The sheriff said when he sought to proceed in his car, Baltzley blocked the way. Ahl said some of the strikers had lead pipes and he called the sheriff when he feared that violence would ensue.

The justice's office was jammed for today's hearing.

CLARK ATTACKS DUFF, WILSON, MR. EISENHOWER

YORK, Pa., (AP)—Joseph S. Clark, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, says the Eisenhower administration feels small business is "obsolete."

"And they think there is nothing that can be done about it," Clark told a political rally last night.

"The Republican party sincerely believes in government of big business and for big business," Clark said, adding:

"And they really believe if a man is rich he is smart and that if he makes Chevrolet, he can run the Defense Department."

Clark referred in part to Defense Secretary Wilson who at one time headed the General Motors Corp.

"When Eisenhower decided to name a committee to look into ways of aiding small businessmen, he named Wilson, Commerce Secretary Weeks, and Treasury Secretary Humphrey," Clark said.

He then asked:

"Did you ever leave your goldfish in a bowl and leave a tomato guarding them?"

"I feel that democracy will be in danger if the time ever comes that every American has to work for big business," the Democratic candidate said. "If it costs something to keep the family farm and small business then it's worth something."

"The Eisenhower administration represents a group that knows the price of everything but the value of nothing," he declared.

"The GOP administration is made up of 19th Century minds trying to cope with 20th Century problems."

Earlier, Clark told another po-

KOREAN VEEP WOUNDED IN HAND BY SHOT

By CHARLES CHIN

SEOUL (AP)—Chang Myun, President Syngman Rhee's outspoken opposition vice president, was shot and wounded in the hand today as he stepped from the stage of a political convention.

The attempted assassination came less than 24 hours after the Rhee-dominated National Assembly voted 86-6 to warn Chang against continuing his criticism of the government.

Chang, a Roman Catholic and a former ambassador to the United States, has been in off-and-on seclusion since he was chosen vice president May 15 after a turbulent election campaign. The candidate of the opposition Democratic party, he decisively defeated Rhee's running mate.

Two Shots Fired

The assassin, identified by police as Kim Sang Poon, 28, fired two revolver shots at 2:35 p.m. as Chang stepped to the floor after addressing a Democratic party convention in the municipal theater.

One bullet went through the palm of Chang's left hand. A party aide said several bones were smashed. The vice president, after being treated by a doctor attending the convention, shut himself up in his home and refused to see newsmen.

Four hours later Rhee in a statement expressed surprise and regret at the attack on his political enemy and relief that Chang's wound was slight. The President promised the arrest and strict punishment of anyone connected with the assassination attempt.

Assaulted Beaten

Police said Kim, a veteran of the Korean War, admitted the assassination attempt and said in explanation:

"I thought he would do a fair job for the nation, but he was trying to fraternize with Japan, which is my enemy."

Chang in one recent statement said it was time for Korea to establish diplomatic relations with Japan, which occupied Korea for years before World War II. Convention delegates beat Kim savagely before police guarding the hall could get to him to make the arrest. He was taken to a police hospital.

Second Man Arrested

Democratic party leaders said a second unidentified man with the assassin was arrested as he tried to escape.

As vice president, Chang has no power but would take over the presidency if Rhee, now 81, should die.

Rhee and Chang share an intense hatred of communism and a desire to take North Korea away from the Reds. But Chang charged Rhee's government was inefficient, authoritarian and incapable of wisely using aid funds to rebuild Korea.

The team is one of five squads which won regional titles to qualify for the competition on the shores of San Francisco Bay.

Entrants in the double elimination meet are seeking team and individual awards which will go to the champions and runners-up. The tournament is the first of four command-wide meets to be held each year, according to Lt. Gen. Stanley R. Mickelsen, commanding general of the Army Antiaircraft Command. The tournaments have been set up to boost morale and encourage athletic participation within the command.

2 ACCUSED OF PRICE "DEALS"

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Sun Oil Co. of Philadelphia and the Pure Oil Co. of Chicago have been accused by the Federal Trade Commission of engaging in price discrimination by selling gasoline to some customers at lower prices than their competitors.

Complaints were filed against the two companies yesterday under terms of the Robinson-Patman amendment to the anti-trust law. The complaint against Sun charges that gasoline was sold to Gilbert V. McLean, a dealer in Jacksonville, Fla., at price up to 1.7 cents lower per gallon than to other customers.

The two companies have 30 days to file answers to the complaint. A hearing in the Sun case was set for Dec. 5 at Jacksonville before an FTC examiner.

Frank R. Markley, a Sun president in charge of marketing, reached at Philadelphia, said the FTC complaint came as a surprise. He said Sun gave McLean a discount because a dealer across the street in Jacksonville had been cutting gasoline prices.

SAYS STATE IS MAKING MONEY ON AUTO SALES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Property and Supplies Department reports it received $300 more for the recent sale of six 1956 cars than was paid for the vehicles by the state nine months ago.

The sale, said Department Secretary John S. Rice marked the first 1956 models bought and sold this year under the new state policy of putting used cars up for auction instead of trading them in on new vehicles as had been the practice for years.

Rice, in a report to Gov. Leader, said the six autos were originally purchased by the state for $1,223 and were sold at auction for $1,274 each.

To Save Millions
Leader estimated the state would save 2½ million dollars a year under the new program. A total of 179 cars were sold at auction so far.

The cars, including the half dozen 1956 models, sold for $53,267, Rice said.

Most of the cars were 1947-48-49 vintage which brought prices ranging from $51 to $125.

The next sale will be held Oct. 30 when 158 cars will be put on the block.

MINERS WIN WAGE INCREASE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secret negotiations reportedly have brought agreement on a new $2 daily wage increase and additional vacation pay for many of the nation's coal miners.

There had been no prior announcement even that negotiations were under way between President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers and Edward G. Fox, new head of the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn. In the past, agreements between the two groups have set the pattern for the soft coal industry.

Formal announcement that they have agreed on terms of a new contract is expected next Tuesday, when the independent UMW opens its convention in Cincinnati.

UMW officials declined to comment, but sources close to the coal industry said Lewis and Fox already have initiated a memorandum of understanding.

It reportedly calls for the same two-step increase given the miners last year—a raise of $1.20 a day effective Oct. 1 and an additional 80 cents effective next April 1. The miners' present basic daily wage is 20.25.

The strong winds that battered Louisiana and pummeled Alabama lost their punch as the storm moved slowly northeastward along the Atlantic Coast.

Yesterday, particularly in eastern Pennsylvania and into the Harrisburg area, there were strong winds and heavy rains. Nearly an inch of rain fell in and around Philadelphia and temperatures remained mostly in the 50's.

The weatherman says the winds have about gone, and temperatures will rise into the 60's but occasional rain will fall to dampen Friday.

For Saturday the forecast is for clearing weather, generally cloudy and a little warmer.

In some scattered sections of the state there may be some occasional rain even on Saturday.

The strong winds yesterday and last night raised tides along the coast line but did relatively little damage. Some power and telephone lines were disabled for short periods.

Stand In Line; Had No Time To Write

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—A newspaper reporter, curious to find out why people spend hours in line to buy their 1957 automobile license plates, asked several why they didn't send a check to instead.

The reporter said many people told him they just "didn't have time to write a letter."

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Health Department today fixed hearings in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh next week on proposed regulations for public health protection against radiation.

Karl M. Mason, state director of environmental health, will act as chairman of both sessions. The Philadelphia hearing will take place Tuesday and the Pittsburgh hearing, Thursday.

OLD MAN TAKES HEAVY SWING AT BLONDE, SCRIBE

NEW YORK (AP)—Javier Pereira, Colombian Indian who some people claim may be 167 years old, erupted like a pint-sized volcano yesterday. During a 20-minute news conference he swung at a press agent, a blonde, a photographer and a reporter.

Pereira appeared at the session in conjunction with a report by New York Hospital that he is a very old man and "possibly may be more than 150 years of age."

Four feet, four inches tall and weighing 82 pounds, Pereira kept things in an uproar until he told his interpreter: "I'm getting the hell out of here."

Pereira had accepted the suggestion that he sit on a sofa and pose with a blonde reporter. The blonde held his hand fervently and both were beaming until photographers' flash bulbs went off.

This was it! Pereira snapped to the girl in Spanish: "Don't steal the ring" (on his finger). He sent a heavy slap in her direction. A press agent stepped into the breach and got a sock. The Indian then leaped up and swung at a photographer. He took a final swing at a male reporter trying to quiet him down.

Commented the reporter: "Believe me, it hurt."

New York Hospital said in its report — issued after tests: "Although medical science possesses at present no method of determining the exact age of any adult, nonmedical evidence indicates that Mr. Pereira is indeed a very old man, and that possibly he may be more than 150 years of age."

Vigorous And Alert
"Under such circumstances, his physical condition and his diet are of lay as well as medical interest. Examination has revealed him to be vigorous, alert and observing. His eyesight is impaired, but he is still able to find enjoyment from Westerns on television. He likes to listen to music and can dance in rhythm."
"His skin is like that of an old man, but shows no more of the effects of age than that of most men of 70."

Pereira has no teeth but does sport a complete crop of dark hair only interspersed with grey.
Despite his somewhat antisocial get-together with the press at the Hotel Baltimore, the hospital reports said:
"He is gregarious and likes to meet people."

"led, among other things, to the June 28 Poznan riots in Poland." It said the "party court" may have either been called by Khrushchev's opponents or by Khrushchev himself in an effort to "rehabilitate" himself.

It added that Khrushchev took Tito back to the Soviet Union as his witness to "Stalin's monstrosities."

Called "Vacation"

The London Express said Moscow reports "indicate that the Stalinists are growing stronger. Some sources even say Khrushchev is already caught up in a life-or-death struggle."

Western diplomatic sources in Vienna said they had no confirmation of Khrushchev's interpretation of the Tito visit, but they said they did have solid information that Khrushchev was in trouble because of his satellite policy.

Tito's rush trip to the Crimea was reported from Belgrade yesterday as a vacation.

In each group were representatives of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, the Pennsylvania Outdoor Writers Assn., the State Fish and Game Commission and the Department of Forests and Waters.

The groups will search out potential new public access along the four rivers. The trips were expected to show the quality of big river fishing available in Pennsylvania and demonstrate float technique.

2 SERVICEMEN SHOT TO DEATH

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Two British servicemen were killed with bullets in the back along Nicosia's "murder mile" today. A third was wounded but drew a gun and returned the fire.

The deaths brought to 49 the total of British servicemen killed since the EOKA underground 18 months ago began its campaign of violence against British rule of the Mediterranean island colony.

The three Britons were sauntering down Leda Street in civilian clothes when a small group of men opened fire on them from behind. The gunmen escaped.

Leda street is known as "murder mile" because of the number of British servicemen and other persons shot in its crowded sidewalks by EOKA union-with-Greece extremists.

OLD MAN TAKES HEAVY SWING AT BLONDE, SCRIBE

NEW YORK (AP)—Javier Pereira, Colombian Indian who some people claim may be 167 years old, erupted like a pint-sized volcano yesterday. During a 20-minute news conference he swung at a press agent, a blonde, a photographer and a reporter.

Pereira appeared at the session in conjunction with a report by New York Hospital that he is a very old man and "possibly may be more than 150 years of age."

Four feet, four inches tall and weighing 82 pounds, Pereira kept things in an uproar until he told his interpreter: "I'm getting the hell out of here."

Pereira had accepted the suggestion that he sit on a sofa and pose with a blonde reporter. The blonde held his hand fervently and both were beaming until photographers' flash bulbs went off.

This was it! Pereira snapped to the girl in Spanish: "Don't steal the ring" (on his finger). He sent a hearty slap in her direction. A press agent stepped into the breach and got a sock. The Indian then leaped up and swung at a photographer. He took a final swing at a male reporter trying to quiet him down.

Commented the reporter: "Believe me, it hurt."

New York Hospital said in its report—issued after tests:

"Although medical science possesses at present no method of determining the exact age of any adult, nonmedical evidence indicates that Mr. Pereira is indeed a very old man, and that possibly he may be more than 150 years of age."

Vigorous and Alert

"Under such circumstances, his physical condition and his diet are of lay as well as medical interest. Examination has revealed him to be vigorous, alert and observing. His eyesight is impaired, but he is still able to find enjoyment from Western on television. He likes to listen to music and can dance in rhythm."

"His skin is like that of an old man, but shows no more of the effects of age than that of most men of 70."

Pereira has no teeth but does sport a complete crop of dark hair only interspersed with grey.

Despite his somewhat antisocial get-together with the press at the Hotel Baltimore, the hospital report said:

"He is gregarious and likes to meet people."

"Ied, among other things, to the June 28 Poznan riots in Poland." It said the "party court" may have either been called by Khrushchev's opponents or by Khrushchev himself in an effort to "rehabilitate" himself.

It added that Khrushchev took Tito back to the Soviet Union as his witness to "Stalin's monstrosities."

Called "Vacation"

The London Express said Moscow reports "indicate that the Stalinists are growing stronger. Some sources even say Khrushchev is already caught up in a life-or-death struggle."

Western diplomatic sources in Vienna said they had no confirmation of Khrushchev's interpretation of the Tito visit, but they said they did have solid information that Khrushchev was in trouble because of his satellite policy.

Tito's rush trip to the Crimea was reported from Belgrade yesterday as a vacation.

KOREAN VEIP WOUNDED IN HAND BY SHOT

By CHARLES CHIN

SEOUL (U)—Chang Myun, President Syngman Rhee's outspoken opposition vice president, was shot and wounded in the hand today as he stepped from the stage of a political convention.

The attempted assassination came less than 24 hours after the Rhee-dominated National Assembly voted 86-6 to warn Chang against continuing his criticism of the government.

Chang, a Roman Catholic and a former ambassador to the United States, has been in off-and-on seclusion since he was chosen vice president May 15 after a turbulent election campaign. The candidate of the opposition Democratic party, he decisively defeated Rhee's running mate.

Two Shots Fired
The assassin, identified by police as Kim Sang Poon, 28, fired two revolver shots at 2:35 p.m. as Chang stepped to the floor after addressing a Democratic party convention in the municipal theater.

One bullet went through the palm of Chang's left hand. A party aide said several bones were smashed. The vice president, after being treated by a doctor attending the convention, shot himself up in his home and refused to see newsmen.

Four hours later Rhee in a statement expressed surprise and regret at the attack on his political enemy and relief that Chang's wound was slight. The President promised the arrest and strict punishment of anyone connected with the assassination attempt.

Assassin Beaten
Police said Kim, a veteran of the Korean War, admitted the assassination attempt and said in explanation:

"I thought he would do a fair job for the nation, but he was trying to fraternize with Japan, which is my enemy."

Chang in one recent statement said it was time for Korea to establish diplomatic relations with Japan, which occupied Korea for years before World War II.

Convention delegates beat Kim savagely before police guarding the hall could get to him to make the arrest. He was taken to a police hospital.

Second Man Arrested
Democratic party leaders said a second unidentified man with the assassin was arrested as he tried to escape.

As vice president, Chang has no power but would take over the presidency if Rhee, now 81, should die.

Rhee and Chang share an intense hatred of communism and a desire to take North Korea away from the Reds. But Chang charged Rhee's government was inefficient, autocratic, and incapable of wisely using aid funds to rebuild Korea.

GALES POUND SHIPS AT SEA

LONDON (U)—Gales and rain squalls battered ships in the North Sea and the eastern Atlantic today and sent rivers of western England surging out of their banks. The 145-ton Norwegian vessel Heimdal caught fire while battling high seas northwest of Bergen, Norway. Her eight-man crew launched a life boat but later boarded their ship again to fight the fire.

Planes from Scotland and Norway flew to its aid and the 3,600-ton Norwegian freighter Hegra stood by.

A Dutch lifeboat rescued the 42-man crew of a Belgian minesweeper which ran aground at the Hook of Holland.

The collier Corfell took off the three crewmen of the 138-ton British vessel Shawford in the Thames Estuary. The abandoned ship was blown ashore. The Clacton lifeboat took four men and a woman from a yacht in distress off the Essex coast.

In northern Denmark the 3,400-ton British tanker Astrality ripped two spans off a railway bridge across the Lihjorden Strait, paralyzing rail and sea traffic in that busy area. The ship was damaged slightly.

2 ACCUSED OF PRICE "DEALS"

WASHINGTON (U)—The Sun Oil Co. of Philadelphia and the Pure Oil Co. of Chicago have been accused by the Federal Trade Commission of engaging in price discrimination by selling gasoline to some customers at lower prices than their competitors.

Complaints were filed against the two companies yesterday under terms of the Robinson-Patman amendment to the anti-trust law. The complaint against Sun charges that gasoline was sold to Gilbert V. McLean, a dealer in Jacksonville, Fla., at price up to 1.7 cents lower per gallon than to other customers.

The two companies have 30 days to file answers to the complaint. A hearing in the Sun case was set for Dec. 5 at Jacksonville before an FTC examiner.

Frank R. Markley, a Sun president in charge of marketing, reached at Philadelphia, said the FTC complaint came as a surprise. He said Sun gave McLean a discount because a dealer across the street in Jacksonville had been cutting gasoline prices.

Hurricane Hunter Plane Kept Busy

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—A hurricane hunter plane from San Juan, Puerto Rico, scouted a squally weather area today to determine whether it is growing into a tropical storm.

The whole disturbance is moving westward at about 12 miles an hour. It lies across the eastern end of the Caribbean Sea.

Weather men reported that ship reports from inside the area indicate it has shown no buildup since it was discovered yesterday.

SAYS STATE IS MAKING MONEY ON AUTO SALES

HARRISBURG (U)—The Property and Supplies Department reports it received $300 more for the recent sale of six 1956 cars than was paid for the vehicles by the state nine months ago.

The sale, said Department Secretary John S. Rice, marked the first 1956 models bought and sold this year under the new state policy of putting used cars up for auction instead of trading them in on new vehicles as had been the practice for years.

Rice, in a report to Gov. Leader, said the six autos were originally purchased by the state for $1,223 and were sold at auction for $1,274 each.

To Save Millions
Leader estimated the state would save 2½ million dollars a year under the new program. A total of 173 cars were sold at auction so far.

The cars, including the half dozen 1956 models, sold for $53,267, Rice said.

Most of the cars were 1947-48-49 vintage which brought prices ranging from $51 to $125. The next sale will be held Oct. 30 when 158 cars will be put on the block.

MINERS WIN WAGE INCREASE

WASHINGTON (U)—Secret negotiations reportedly have brought agreement on a new $2 daily wage increase and additional vacation pay for many of the nation's coal miners.

There had been no prior announcement even that negotiations were under way between President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers and Edward G. Fox, new head of the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn. In the past, agreements between the two groups have set the pattern for the soft coal industry.

Formal announcement that they have agreed on terms of a new contract, is expected next Tuesday, when the independent UMW opens its convention in Cincinnati. UMW officials declined to comment, but sources close to the coal industry said Lewis and Fox already have initiated a memorandum of understanding.

It reportedly calls for the same two-step increase given the miners last year—a raise of $1.20 a day effective Oct. 1 and an additional 80 cents effective next April 1. The miners' present basic daily wage is 20.25.

HURRICANE TAIL STRIKES STATE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Intermittent rain, the start-and-stop variety, plagued Pennsylvanians today as most of the Keystone State received the remnants of the once-powerful Hurricane Flossy.

The strong winds that battered Louisiana and pummeled Alabama lost their punch as the storm moved slowly northeastward along the Atlantic Coast.

Yesterday, particularly in eastern Pennsylvania and into the Harrisburg area, there were strong winds and heavy rains. Nearly an inch of rain fell in and around Philadelphia and temperatures remained mostly in the 50's.

The weatherman says the winds have about gone, and temperatures will rise into the 60's but occasional rain will fall to dampen Friday.

For Saturday the forecast is for clearing weather, generally cloudy and a little warmer.

In some scattered sections of the state there may be some occasional rain even on Saturday. The strong winds yesterday and last night raised tides along the coast line but did relatively little damage. Some power and telephone lines were disabled for short periods.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Ensign Frazee To Join Submarine Service: It was a cool, crisp day, not so many sundowns ago. The U.S.S. DuPont, one of Uncle Sam's speedy little destroyers, was cutting the seas "somewhere out in the Atlantic."

His routine duties completed, Ensign Murray B. Frazee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray B. Frazee, Baltimore street, was taking a "spare" reading a week old newspaper aboard the DuPont.

Off the horizon Ensign Frazee sighted another destroyer, the U. S. S. Rhind. Then, he noticed that the Rhind's blinker lights were flashing a signal that was a message. Frazee casually read the blinker message:

"Saw your father last week. He sends regards."

Frazee continued his reading. A few moments later he was handed a blinker message. It was the message flashed from the Rhind and it was directed to him. It was sent by Fred Basehore, of Gettysburg, storekeeper and naval mail clerk aboard the Rhind. Basehore had spent a brief furlough in Gettysburg and he had relayed the message Ensign Frazee's father had given him to give to Frazee's son "if they ever happened to meet."

Then, sometime later, the U.S. DuPont docked at a foreign port with U. S. mail. Frazee had a few days shore leave. Returning to his ship one afternoon he arrived at the dock just as another ship was unloading a cargo of supplies. He glanced about. All was bustle and bustle.

Then the huge ship's crane dumped a flock of wooden crates. Plastered across several of them he read: "Musselman's Apple Butter, Biglerville, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

"It really looked swell," said Ensign Frazee today as he left Gettysburg for New London, Connecticut, after spending a twelve hours leave with his parents.

Saturday morning he starts a three months course at the submarine school preparatory to assignment to a U.S. submarine.

Mrs. McDermitt will be met in Harrisburg by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Redding, and her sister, Beatrice. Following a visit with Mr. McDermitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis F. McDermitt, New Cumberland, she will accompany her parents to Gettysburg for an extended visit.

Mr. McDermitt will join his wife here in December. For the last two years he has been employed by the Boringen Air Base.

Today's Talk

BOOKS ARE KEYS
Books are keys that unlock information in thousands of libraries and private homes. They unlock the door to your mind and mine. And it is interesting to note that any good book is a key to any hungry mind!

Many a book has changed the course of one's life. In fact, a single book may well become a rich vein of golden information. A classmate in college once told me that the reading of "Les Miserables," by Victor Hugo, had changed his whole outlook upon life. I can well understand his statement, for I shall never forget the thrill I had in the first reading of this great book. The characters live within you as you read this classic.

I look upon books as wise teachers, as though each one had its own special story to tell. As I look upon my many books that have followed me through life, I think of the times that many have opened up, with their keys, a new world of ideas and revelations. To me there is something alive about a worthwhile book. Many of them I look upon as friends, as human as though each had a voice still, though its author may have lived and died many years ago. When you have put a part of your life into a book you have helped to celebrate an event!

People talk about "the Key to Success," but there are thousands of such keys in every place where there are books to be read, by unlocking their doors. I am always interested in looking over the books that are in different homes. Where there exists a love of them, you will note a very careful selection, but any one could well serve as a key to the mind of the one who had bought and preserved it.

I have an edition of Browning's poems that once was the prized possession of Mary Webb, the English writer. It was a gift to her as a child. All through it are favorite lines that she wrote and her comments are most revealing. How alive anyone can make his books!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Prayer" Protected, 1956, by the George Matthew Adams Service

NASSER HOLDS
UPPER HAND IN
CANAL DISPUTEBy JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Egypt's strong man, President Nasser, has the West in knots. The United States, Britain and France seem to have run out of ideas on how to handle him.

Ever since Nasser seized the Suez Canal July 26 — he called it nationalizing the canal on the ground that it belongs to Egypt — the Western powers have squirmed to find some way to make him loosen his grip.

Although the canal lies in Egypt it has been under the international control of the Suez Canal Co. for 68 years. Throughout the time it collected tolls which mostly went to the company. Egypt got only a part.

Nasser says: enough of that. Egypt will take over the company and collect the tolls. There will be no more international control of the canal, he says. And there he stands, letting the West do the talking.

See Threat Ahead
The Western powers, whose ships are the main users of the canal, want some kind of international control. They know that if Nasser alone runs it, he can keep out their ships anytime and put an economic stranglehold on them.

They argue that he has violated an international agreement made in 1888 by nine nations — which didn't include Egypt since Egypt was under the thumb of the Turks and British at the time — that the canal is an international waterway. If the Western powers had shown as much interest in keeping the canal truly open to all powers — before they themselves were involved — Nasser might not have been able to get away with his seizure now.

Bar Israeli Ships
Egypt has barred Israeli ships, and ships bound for Israel, ever since 1948, before Nasser came to power in Egypt. Egypt's explanation for that action: she was at war with Israel and never made peace.

This is the story since Nasser took over the canal in July: Britain and France talked at first of blasting Nasser loose from the canal if he didn't let go. If they tried it — and Nasser says he would fight back — it might mean world war.

The rough talk of the British and French worried Secretary of State Dulles, who said this country wouldn't try to shoot its way through the canal. He went to London for a meeting with British, French and other nations.

Eighteen of them agreed on a plan which they submitted to Nasser and which anyone could have predicted would fail.

International Board
They proposed an international board, including Egypt, to run the canal. Nothing doing, Nasser said. No international control for him. Dulles in the meantime came home.

The French and British started talking tough again. Dulles had an idea: create a canal users association. He rushed back to London. Another meeting. Another agreement: this time that there should be a Suez Canal Users Assn.

Last Friday they issued their explanation — a hodgepodge of vague phrases that seemed to have no practical meaning except that it was hoped this might start negotiations with Nasser.

The British seemed to have small confidence in S. A. Two days later, they got the French to go along with them in asking the United Nations to find a solution.

STATE MAY SET NEW RECORD ON REGISTRATIONS

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (AP) — A preliminary survey today indicated Pennsylvania may have turned out in record numbers to make themselves eligible to vote in the Nov. 6 general election.

The same Associated Press survey of county election officials and Republican and Democratic registration leaders showed that Democrats were continuing to make inroads into the Republican majority.

The survey covered 55 out of the 67 counties. No figures were available since the registration deadline expired Sept. 17 from Egypt promptly asked the U.N. to look into the case, too. Now there will be weeks of cat-and-dog fights in the U.N. and much talk. And when it's all over there may still be no solution.

Dulles has been credited with calming down the French and British and perhaps preventing war. Does he have any idea of how to solve the problem? If he does, he didn't reveal it at his news conference this week. He offered hope for "patience and resourcefulness" and an eventual milder spirit on Nasser's part.

STATE MAY SET
NEW RECORD ON REGISTRATIONS

Clearfield, Crawford, Elk, Erie, Lancaster, Lebanon, Monroe, Montgomery, Montour, Schuylkill, Wayne and York counties.

Official figures won't be complete until mid-October or later. The all-time high in Pennsylvania's registration occurred in the 1962 presidential election. Nearly 5,342,000 voters were on the rolls of whom 3,130,078 were Republicans and 2,136,511 were Democrats.

GOP Margin Cut
That majority of nearly a million Republican voters was whittled down in 3½ years to 411,000 as shown in the registration for the primary election last April 24. Total registration also fell down to about 4,971,000 by then.

Preliminary figures from the 55 counties surveyed showed 4,672,000 Republicans and Democrats registered for the coming election. For those same 55 counties, the total in the primary was 4,191,000 and in the 1952 general election, 4,509,000.

If the remaining 12 counties — where returns are still to be tabulated — follow this trend, a new record should be set.

The returns from the 55 counties were broken down this way: Republican 2,449,000, Democratic 2,223,000, with a majority for the GOP of 226,000.

The same 55 counties gave Republicans an edge of 729,000 in the 1952 election.

Braves Need Sweep Of Three From Cards To Win Flag While Brooks, Facing Bucs, Hope For Tie

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

This is it. Forget those past 151 games in the National League season. It's Milwaukee at St. Louis for three, Pittsburgh at Brooklyn for three—and all of them, or any one of 'em, could decide the pennant.

Milwaukee's Braves, holding the lead by one game, need a sweep against the Cards to nail it without worrying about what Brooklyn does.

"It's Bob Buhl tonight, Warren Spahn tomorrow night," says Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney, "and the whole damn bunch on Sunday!"

"Looking Lousy Lately" The Dodgers, supremely confident all season that they would catch the Braves and repeat as champions, no longer can do it alone. The best they can do is sweep the Pirates and pray St. Louis can take at least one from the Braves. That would leave it a tie—calling for a best-of-three playoff beginning Monday in Brooklyn.

Manager Walt Alton sees his Dodger chances like this: "We've got to have help. If the Cards win one, we'll be all right. We haven't any reason to give up yet," but he added:

"I'm not worried about the Cardinals easing up. The thing that worries me is that we've looked pretty lousy lately."

Redlegs Chances Thin "Lousy" describes a 2-4 record in the last six games—a slump that dumped the Brooks out of the lead.

Cincinnati's chances are more than slim. The Redlegs, fooling everyone and even themselves by hanging on to the final three days of the season, need a sweep of their two games with Chicago beginning tomorrow—and three defeats by Milwaukee and at least two defeats by Brooklyn to hope for a tie.

The Braves, a 1-3 favorite to take the flag (although the same money man will lay you 12 to 5 they don't), have picked Buhl, not effective of late, and Spahn, a 20-game winner who has a 44-34 life time edge on the Cards.

Buhl, 28 and a righthander, is 18-8 for the season. But he hasn't pitched a complete game since August 30 (a 1-1 tie with Pittsburgh) and is only 2-3 for the month, winning one in relief against the Dodgers. He's 1-1 vs St. Louis, giving nine hits and three earned runs in 17 innings. Of the 17 home runs Buhl has allowed, only one was socked by a Cardinal—a pinch-hit job by Rocky Nelson that beat the Braves.

Cardinal Manager Fred Hutchinson, figuring "We'll give them a tumble," has named righthander Tom Poholsky for tonight's opener. Poholsky is 9-14 for the season, 2-2 vs Milwaukee with one complete game in five starts against the Braves, allowing 40 hits (three homers) and 10 earned runs in 38 innings.

He's tougher than his over-all record looks. Against Brooklyn, for instance, he was 1-5—but a whumping 12 of the Brooks' runs against him were unearned. With-out the poor fielding, he would have had a 4-2 record against the Dodgers.

It's Herm Wehrmeier and probable Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell for the Cardinals tomorrow and Sunday.

While the Braves are 12-7 for the season against fourth-place St. Louis, Brooklyn's world champs are only 10-9 against the sixth-place Pirates. And they'll be running up against Bob Friend again tonight. The 25-year-old righthander, the All-Star game winner, is 17-16 for the year—with a 4-1 edge on the Dodgers, whom he's whipped with a three-hitter and a two-hitter this season.

Manager Bobby Bragan says it's Ronnie Kline tomorrow and Vern Law Sunday—"but Friend will be back either in relief or as a possible starter again on Sunday."

Craig And Maglie Alton is going with Roger Craig, a young righthander who now is only 12-11 after failing to complete his last 13 starts. He's 2-2 vs Pittsburgh.

Tomorrow it's Sal Maglie, who no-hit Philadelphia in his last start, and Sunday it's Don Newcombe.

Oh yes, the American League. The New York Yankees, ready to hit the road or the subway for Wednesday's scheduled World Series opener, are at home to Boston tonight, Detroit's at Cleveland, Chicago at Kansas City and Baltimore at Washington.

FAVOR BOYD TO BEAT GIARDELLO

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lanky Bobby Boyd of Chicago is an 8-5 favorite to extend his winning string to 10 tonight in a 10-rounder against Joey Giardello of Philadelphia at the Arena.

The middleweight scrap will be carried nationally on NBC radio and TV, starting at 10 p.m., EST. For the 26-year-old Giardello, twice outpointed by Charlie Cotton for the only losses in his last 14 fights, tonight's bout is "one that I just got to win."

It's just as important to the middleweight ambitions of Boyd, who moved into the No. 2 spot ahead of Joey after Giardello's losses to Cotton.

Boyd had hopes that a victory tonight might earn him a crack at Sugar Ray Robinson's title in December, but yesterday Sugar Ray signed to meet Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, Dec. 12 in Madison Square Garden.

Boyd and Giardello each has 22 knockouts to his credit, although the Philadelphia battler has been in about twice as many fights. Boyd has won 40, lost 6 and had 2 draws while Giardello has won 61, lost 13 and drawn in 5.

ROCHESTER — Indianapolis of the American Assn. defeated Rochester of the International League 3-2 in the opening of the Little World Series.

Canners' Bubbblers Clash In Annual Game Saturday Night At Boiling Springs

Probably the largest crowd of the season will jam the Boiling Springs High School football field Saturday night when the Bubbblers will be host to the Biglerville High Canners. Game time is 8 o'clock.

The battle between the old rivals is certain to draw large supporting delegations from both schools. Parents of Bubbler players will be guests at the game and a pre-game ceremony will pay honor to them.

"Bud" Ecker has apparently assembled another powerhouse outfit. The Bubbblers are unbeaten in three games, having won from Newport 59-0 Hummelstown 31-6, and Enola 30-0. Particularly impressive has been the work of its strong line.

Coach Tom Faulkner of Biglerville said today, "If we can out-change them we will have a chance." The Canners suffered a 24-13 reverse at Shippensburg before bouncing back with an impressive 41-14 victory over the Scotland Cadets.

During the past week Coach Faulkner made an intensive study of the films of the Scotland game which bore out the fine game performances of Robert Clark, tackle, and Ralph Mentzer, guard. They will co-captain the Canners at Boiling Springs.

With the exception of a few minor bumps and bruises, the Canners squad is in good shape. Parker Coble, end, will be available for part time duty. Jimmy May, an outstanding leather-lugger, is again being counted on in that department. James Smallwood, a junior, is scheduled to see action in the backfield.

Last year Boiling Springs nipped the Canners 6-0 after being outplayed in every phase of the game.

Past performances mean nothing when these schools meet and Saturday's game promises to be one of the best in the long series.

NEW YORK (AP)—With the Ray Robinson—Gene Fullmer middleweight title fight all set for Dec. 12 in New York, Promoter Jim Norris is expected to announce within the next few days the signing of Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight championship in Chicago, Nov. 30.

Norris, president of the far flung International Boxing Club, wound up four months of negotiations with Robinson yesterday by getting the 36-year-old champion to agree to risk his crown against the 25-year-old Fullmer at Madison Square Garden. Broadway bookmakers made it an even fight—6-5 and take your pick.

Robinson and Fullmer will clash on a Wednesday night with home television and radio over the ABC networks. New York and Philadelphia will be blacked out of TV.

Sugar Ray, a shrewd bargainer, got everything but the Garden fixtures for agreeing to take on the strong, aggressive Fullmer. Ray will get 47½ per cent of the gate, which Norris predicted would be a $200,000 sellout at $5 to $30 prices, and 60 per cent of the $100,000 radio-TV package.

Fullmer will get 12½ per cent of the gate and nothing for radio-TV. Robinson gets both fighters' share of the air receipts.

The new owners say they plan no announcement until after the World Series. Meanwhile the names of Hutchinson and Tebbets, along with those of Billy Hitchcock, Leo Durocher, Mickey Cochrane, Paul Richards, George Kell, Al Lopez, Eddie Stanky and Mel Ott, are being bandied about.

Tiger officials asked permission to talk with Fred Hutchinson, former Tiger pilot who has a year to go on a contract with the St. Louis Cardinals, and Birdie Tebbets, one-time Detroit catcher who is "in solid" as manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Sunday's Games At Bendersville And Fairfield

Local baseball fans will be offered a pair of outstanding contests Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Bendersville and Littlestown will open their best-of-three series for the playoff title of the South Penn League at Bendersville. The upper counties, regular season champs, took two of three from Mummansburg to gain the finals while Littlestown, fourth place team in the final standing, swept two from Huntstown.

Cashtown and Fairfield will play the second of their three-game series for the Penn-Mar League playoff title at Fairfield. Last Sunday the teams put on a dazzling affair at Cashtown, the home team scoring twice in the ninth to win a 2-1 verdict.

Bullets Ready For Bisons In Rotary Bowl Game At Hershey Saturday Night

TENDON PULLED BY RICHARDSON

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—A pulled tendon, an angry Latin and a gal named Flossie provided the main ingredients of the U.S.-Italy Davis Cup Inter-zone tennis matches, opening today.

The pulled tendon—in his right foot—belonged to Ham Richardson of Westfield, N.J., who faced Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli in the first of two singles matches at the West Side Tennis Club. Starting time was 12:30 p.m. EST.

The angry Latin was little Giuseppe Merlo, Italy's top-ranked player, chagrined when towering Orlando Sirola was named to meet America's Vic Seixas in the second duel.

Flossie's role was that of the weather. The backlash of the southern hurricane meeting a cold front from Canada promised general rain and high winds throughout the day. The gate for the important tennis test already has been hurt by interest in the National League baseball race.

Richardson pulled up lame yesterday from a foot injury he's been hiding for three days. He went to the doctor, got his foot taped and, then, after a workout, announced he could play.

Two Bullets are still on the injured list and will be out indefinitely. Joe Robinson, guard, and Bob Lebo, halfback, will not don uniforms.

Bucknell, with its usual heavy outfit, plans to use the following starters: Frassenei and Manning, ends; Walasek and Holmes, tackles; Meenan and Michalski, guards; Riker, center; Stewart, quarterback; Fitzsimmons and Brothers, halfbacks, and Koppes, fullback. It was Koppes who provided much of the ground-gaining last week against Albright.

1st Game In Series Saturday's game marks the 41st renewal of the series which began in 1893. Bucknell holds the lead with a record of 26-12-2. Last year the Bullets romped to an easy 26-7 win at Hershey.

All proceeds of the game, which is sponsored annually by the Harrisburg Rotary Club, will go to charity. The Gettysburg College band, headed by Dawn Burg, star baton-twirler, will head the large local delegation of fans to Hershey.

Bullet fans will occupy the east stands with Bucknell followers on the opposite side.

Yale teams retained Eastern intercollegiate championships during 1956 in baseball, golf and swimming.

FAVOR BOYD TO BEAT GIARDELLO

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lanky Bobby Boyd of Chicago is an 8-5 favorite to extend his winning string to 10 tonight in a 10-rounder against Joey Giardello of Philadelphia at the Arena.

The middleweight scrap will be carried nationally on NBC radio and TV, starting at 10 p.m., EST. For the 26-year-old Giardello, twice outpointed by Charlie Cotton for the only losses in his last 14 fights, tonight's bout is "one that I just got to win."

It's just as important to the middleweight ambitions of Boyd, who moved into the No. 2 spot ahead of Joey after Giardello's losses to Cotton.

Boyd had hopes that a victory tonight might earn him a crack at Sugar Ray Robinson's title in December, but yesterday Sugar Ray signed to meet Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, Dec. 12 in Madison Square Garden.

Boyd and Giardello each has 22 knockouts to his credit, although the Philadelphia battler has been in about twice as many fights. Boyd has won 40, lost 6 and had 2 draws while Giardello has won 61, lost 13 and drawn in 5.

Canners' Bubbblers Clash In Annual Game Saturday Night At Boiling Springs

Probably the largest crowd of the season will jam the Boiling Springs High School football field Saturday night when the Bubbblers will be host to the Bigville High Canners. Game time is 8 o'clock.

The battle between the old rivals is certain to draw large supporting delegations from both schools. Parents of Bubbler players will be guests at the game and a pre-game ceremony will pay honor to them.

"Bud" Ecker has apparently assembled another powerhouse outfit. The Bubbblers are unbeaten in three games, having won from Newport 59-0 Hummelstown 31-6, and Enola 30-0. Particularly impressive has been the work of its strong line.

Coach Tom Faulkner of Bigville said today, "If we can out-charge them we will have a chance." The Canners suffered a 24-13 reverse at Shippensburg before bouncing back with an impressive 41-14 victory over the Scotland

Cadets. During the past week Coach Faulkner made an intensive study of the films of the Scotland game which bore out the fine game performances of Robert Clark, tackle, and Ralph Mentzer, guard. They will co-captain the Canners at Boiling Springs.

With the exception of a few minor bumps and bruises, the Canners are in good shape. Parker Coble, end, will be available for part time duty. Jimmy May, an outstanding leather-lugger, is again being counted on in that department. James Smallwood, a junior, is scheduled to see action in the backfield.

Last year Boiling Springs nipped the Canners 6-0 after being outplayed in every phase of the game.

Past performances mean nothing when these schools meet and Saturday's game promises to be one of the best in the long series.

GHS RESERVES WIN 1ST 34-0 AT WAYNESBORO

A trio of touchdowns by Gary Maitland on runs of six, 41 and 58 yards sparked the Gettysburg High School junior varsity to a 34-0 victory over the Waynesboro Jayvees on a rain-swept gridiron at Waynesboro Thursday afternoon.

Eliminating handoffs due to the slippery piskin by having the ball-carrier take the ball directly from center instead of the quarterback, the local outfit exhibited superior possession to gain the triumph.

There was no score in the first period but Maitland raced over from 6-yard line in the second frame after the Warriors had forced Waynesboro deep into its own territory.

Maitland got away on his two long scoring runs in the third period, his first jaunt being for 41 yards and the second for 58.

Block Punt

Early in the final stanza Bill Rentzel, tackle, fell on a blocked Waynesboro punt in the end zone for the fourth Warrior score.

The final Gettysburg tally was set up by Herb Taylor, end, who intercepted a pass and ran 35 yards to the Waynesboro 1-yard march from where Joel Riddlemosem bucked over on the next play.

John Bream and Riddlemosem each accounted for a pair of extra points on plunges.

Next Thursday afternoon the Warriors will go after their second straight when Boiling Springs will play here. The game will start at 3:30.

The lineups:

Sunday's Games At Bendersville And Fairfield

Local baseball fans will be offered a pair of outstanding contests Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Bendersville and Littlestown will open their best-of-three series for the playoff title of the South Penn League at Bendersville. The upper countians, regular season champs, took two of three from Mummansburg to gain the finals while Littlestown, fourth place team in the final standing, swept two from Hunt-erstown.

Cashtown and Fairfield will play the second of their three-game series for the Pen-Mar League playoff title at Fairfield. Last Sunday the teams put on a dazzling affair at Cashtown, the home team scoring twice in the ninth to win a 2-1 verdict.

PATTERSON MAY FIGHT MOORE

NEW YORK (AP)—With the Ray Robinson - Gene Fullmer middleweight title fight all set for Dec. 12 in New York, Promoter Jim Norris is expected to announce within the next few days the signing of Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson for the heavyweight championship in Chicago, Nov. 30.

Norris, president of the far flung International Boxing Club, wound up four months of negotiations with Robinson yesterday by getting the 38-year-old champion to agree to risk his crown against the 25-year-old Fullmer at Madison Square Garden. Broadway bookmakers made it an even fight—6-5 and take your pick.

Robinson and Fullmer will clash on a Wednesday night with home television and radio over the ABC networks. New York and Philadelphia will be blacked out of TV.

Sugar Ray, a shrewd bargainer, got everything but the Garden fixtures for agreeing to take on the strong, aggressive Fullmer. Ray will get 47½ per cent of the gate, which Norris predicted would be a $200,000 sellout at $5 to $30 prices, and 60 per cent of the $100,000 radio-TV package.

Fullmer will get 12½ per cent of the gate and nothing for radio-TV. Robinson gets both fighters' share of the air receipts.

The new owners say they plan no announcement until after the World Series. Meanwhile the names of Hutchinson and Tabbets, along with those of Billy Hitchcock, Leo Durocher, Mickey Cochrane, Paul Richards, George Keli, Al Lopez, Eddie Stanky and Mel Ott, are being bandied about.

Game Rescheduled For Monday Night
The Gettysburg Junior High-Delone football game, scheduled here for Thursday evening, was postponed because of inclement weather.

TENDON PULLED BY RICHARDSON

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—A pulled tendon, an angry Latin and a gal named Flossie provided the main ingredients of the U.S.-Italy Davis Cup Inter-zone tennis matches, opening today.

The pulled tendon—in his right foot—belonged to Ham Richardson of Westfield, N.J., who faced Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli in the first of two singles matches at the West Side Tennis Club. Starting time was 12:30 p.m. E.S.T.

The angry Latin was little Giuseppe Merlo, Italy's top-ranked player, chagrined when towering Orlando Sirola was named to meet America's Vic Seixas in the second duel.

Flossie's role was that of the weather. The backlash of the southern hurricane meeting a cold front from Canada promised general rain and high winds throughout the day. The gate for the important tennis test already has been hurt by interest in the National League baseball race.

Richardson pulled up lame yesterday from a foot injury he's been hiding for three days. He went to the doctor, got his foot taped and then, after a workout, announced he could play.

Following a week of good workouts, the Gettysburg College football squad is ready and eager for its engagement with Bucknell University in the ninth annual Rotary Bowl game to be played Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Hershey Stadium.

The Bullet coaching staff feels the squad has profited immensely during the past week after having been hampered prior to the Lehigh contest due to an epidemic of virus. They feel the Bullets will have to play their best ball, Bucknell being credited with being a better team than that which barely squeezed past Albright 13-0.

A workout was being held Wednesday night under the lights of the Gettysburg High School field with the entire squad giving a good performance.

Hailey Will Start

Coach Johnny Yovicin today announced there will be one change in the starting lineup. Dan Hailey, 6-2 190-pound halfback, will replace Dave Lichtenfeld.

Otherwise the same starters who opposed Lehigh will be at their old posts. Art Hendley and Bill Ward will be at ends; Al Kempton and Marly Hoffman at tackles; Jerry Harrell and Don Harman, guards; Arloe Olsen, center; quarterback, Charley Heverly; halfbacks, Hailey and Earl Yost, and fullback, Frank Capitani.

Two Bullets are still on the injured list and will be out indefinitely. Joe Robinson, guard, and Bob Lebo, halfback, will not don uniforms.

Bucknell, with its usual heavy outfit, plans to use the following starters: Frassenei and Manning, ends; Walasek and Holmes, tackles; Meenan and Michalski, guards; Riker, center; Stewart, quarterback; Fitzsimmons and Brothers, halfbacks, and Koppes, fullback. It was Koppes who provided much of the ground-gaining last week against Albright.

41st Game In Series

Saturday's game marks the 41st renewal of the series which began in 1893. Bucknell holds the lead with a record of 26-12-2. Last year the Bullets romped to an easy 26-7 win at Hershey.

All proceeds of the game, which is sponsored annually by the Harrisburg Rotary Club, will go to charity. The Gettysburg College band, headed by Dawn Burg, star baton-twirler, will head the large local delegation of fans to Hershey.

Bullet fans will occupy the east stands with Bucknell followers on the opposite side.

Yale teams retained Eastern Intercollegiate championships during 1956 in baseball, golf and swimming.

BOOKS ARE KEYS

Books are keys that unlock information in thousands of libraries and private homes. They unlock the door to your mind and mine. And it is interesting to note that any good book is a key to any hungry mind!

Many a book has changed the course of one's life. In fact, a single book may well become a rich vein of golden information. A classmate in college once told me that the reading of "Les Miserables" by Victor Hugo, had changed his whole outlook upon life. I can well understand his statement, for I shall never forget the thrill I had in the first reading of this great book. The characters live within you as you read this classic.

I look upon books as wise teachers, as though each one had its own special story to tell. As I look upon my many books that have followed me through life, I think of the times that many have opened up, with their keys, a new world of ideas and revelations. To me there is something alive about a worthwhile book. Many of them I look upon as friends, as human as though each had a voice still, though its author may have lived and died many years ago. When you have put a part of your life into a book you have helped to celebrate an event!

People talk about "the Key to Success," but there are thousands of such keys in every place where there are books to be read, by unlocking their doors. I am always interested in looking over the books that are in different homes. Where there exists a love of them, you will note a very careful selection, but any one could well serve as a key to the mind of the one who had bought and preserved it.

I have an edition of Browning's poems that once was the prized possession of Mary Webb, the English writer. It was a gift to her as a child. All through it are favorite lines that she wrote and her comments are most revealing. How alive anyone can make his books!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Prayer" Protected, 1956, by the George Matthew Adams Service

NASSER HOLDS UPPER HAND IN CANAL DISPUTE

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON, P. — Egypt's strong man, President Nasser, has the West in knots. The United States, Britain and France seem to have run out of ideas on how to handle him.

Ever since Nasser seized the Suez Canal July 26 — he called it nationalizing the canal on the ground that it belongs to Egypt — the Western powers have squirmed to find some way to make him loosen his grip.

Although the canal lies in Egypt, it has been under the international control of the Suez Canal Co. for 68 years. Throughout the time it collected tolls which mostly went to the company, Egypt got only a part.

Nasser says: enough of that. Egypt will take over the company and collect the tolls. There will be no more international control of the canal, he says. And there he stands, letting the West do the talking.

See Threat Ahead

The Western powers, whose ships are the main users of the canal, want some kind of international control. They know that if Nasser alone runs it, he can keep out their ships anytime and put an economic stranglehold on them.

They argue that he has violated an international agreement made in 1888 by nine nations — which didn't include Egypt since Egypt was under the thumb of the Turks and British at the time — that the canal is an international waterway.

If the Western powers had shown as much interest in keeping the canal truly open to all powers — before they themselves were involved — Nasser might not have been able to get away with his seizure now.

Bar Israeli Ships

Egypt has barred Israeli ships, and ships bound for Israel, ever since 1948, before Nasser came to power in Egypt. Egypt's explanation for that action: she was at war with Israel and never made peace.

This is the story since Nasser took over the canal in July: Britain and France talked at first of blasting Nasser loose from the canal if he didn't let go. If they tried it — and Nasser said he would fight back — it might mean world war.

The rough talk of the British and French worried Secretary of State Dulles, who said this country wouldn't try to shoot its way through the canal. He went to London for a meeting with British, French and other nations.

Eighteen of them agreed on a plan which they submitted to Nasser and which anyone could have predicted would fail.

International Board

They proposed an international board, including Egypt, to run the canal. Nothing doing, Nasser said. No international control for him. Dulles in the meantime came home. The French and British started talking tough again.

Dulles had an idea: create a canal users association. He rushed back to London. Another meeting. Another agreement: this time that there should be a Suez Canal Users Assn.

Last Friday they issued their explanation — a hodgepodge of vague phrases that seemed to have no practical meaning except that it was hoped this might start negotiations with Nasser.

The British seemed to have small confidence in S. A. Two days later, they got the French to go along with them in asking the United Nations to find a solution.

STATE MAY SET NEW RECORD ON REGISTRATIONS

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG P. — A preliminary survey today indicated Pennsylvanians may have turned out in record numbers to make themselves eligible to vote in the Nov. 6 general election.

The same Associated Press survey of county election officials and Republican and Democratic registration leaders showed that Democrats were continuing to make inroads into the Republican majority.

The survey covered 55 out of the 67 counties. No figures were available since the registration deadline expired Sept. 17 from Egypt promptly asked the U.N. to look into the case, too.

Now there will be weeks of cat-and-dog fights in the U.N. and much talk. And when it's all over there may still be no solution.

Dulles has been credited with calming down the French and British and perhaps preventing war. Does he have any idea of how to solve the problem? If he does, he didn't reveal it at his news conference this week. He offered hope for "patience and resourcefulness" and an eventual mulder spirit on Nasser's part.

Clearfield, Crawford, Elk, Erie, Lancaster, Lebanon, Monroe, Montgomery, Montour, Schuylkill, Wayne and York counties.

Official figures won't be complete until mid-October or later. The all-time high in Pennsylvania's registration occurred in the 1902 presidential election. Nearly 5,342,000 voters were on the rolls of whom 3,130,078 were Republicans and 2,136,511 were Democrats.

GOP Margin Cut

That majority of nearly a million Republican voters was whittled down in 3½ years to 411,000 as shown in the registration for the primary election last April 24. Total registration also fell down to about 4,971,000 by then.

Preliminary figures from the 55 counties surveyed showed 4,672,000 Republicans and Democrats registered for the coming election. For those same 55 counties, the total in the primary was 4,191,000 and in the 1952 general election, 4,509,000.

If the remaining 12 counties — where returns are still to be tabulated — follow this trend, a new record should be set.

The returns from the 55 counties were broken down this way: Republican 2,449,000, Democratic 2,223,000, with a majority for the GOP of 226,000.

The same 55 counties gave Republicans an edge of 729,000 in 1952 and 259,000 in last April's primary.

See 600,000 Majority

Most of the counties remaining to be heard from are heavily Republican and there was a good possibility that the Republican majority may be close to 600,000.

Republicans suffered their worst blow in declining registration in Philadelphia. Four years ago, they had a margin of nearly 300,000 voters over the Democrats. That figure is now down to less than 25,000.

New registrations in the Quaker City since the April primary ran almost 2 to 1 Democratic.

Elsewhere in the state, Democrats outran Republicans in new registrations in such other GOP counties as Bucks, Franklin, Indiana, Jefferson, and came close to doing so in Blair, Clinton, Dauphin, Forest and McKean.

Republicans said they registered nearly 25,000 new voters in Delaware County compared to 1,600 for the Democrats and 6,400 in Chester County compared to 2,700 for the Democrats.

All wild and domestic animals can stand air shipment at about 8,000 feet. Pressurized cabins are needed above that altitude.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Ensign Frazee To Join Submarine Service: It was a cool, crisp day, not so many sundowns ago. The U.S.S. DuPont, one of Uncle Sam's speedy little destroyers, was cutting the seas "somewhere out in the Atlantic."

His routine duties completed, Ensign Murray B. Frazee, Jr., of Mr. and Mrs. Murray B. Frazee, Baltimore street, was taking a "spare," reading a week old newspaper aboard the DuPont.

Off the horizon Ensign Frazee sighted another destroyer, the U. S. S. Rhind. Then, he noticed that the Rhind's blinker lights were flashing a signal, then a message. Frazee casually read the blinker message:

"Saw your father last week. He sends regards."

Frazee continued his reading. A few moments later he was handed a blinker message. It was the message flashed from the Rhind and it was directed to him. It was sent by Fred Basehore, of Gettysburg, storekeeper and naval mail clerk aboard the Rhind. Basehore had spent a brief furlough in Gettysburg and he had relayed the message Ensign Frazee's father had given him to give to Frazee's son "if they ever happened to meet."

Then, sometime later, the U.S. DuPont docked at a foreign port with U. S. mail. Frazee had a few days shore leave. Returning to his ship one afternoon he arrived at the dock just as another ship was unloading a cargo of supplies. He glanced about. All was "hustle and bustle."

Then the huge ship's crane dumped a flock of wooden crates. Plastered across several of them he read: "Muselman's Appie Buster, Biglerville, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

"It really looked swell," said Ensign Frazee today as he left Gettysburg for New London, Connecticut, after spending a twelve hours leave with his parents.

Saturday morning he starts a three months course at the submarine school preparatory to assignment to a U.S. submarine.

Resigns Position: Mrs. Allen M. Sprinkle, Chambersburg street, has resigned her position with the state highway department at Harrisburg. She had been employed there two and one-half years. Her resignation becomes effective Tuesday.

D., and Mrs. Gilbert Hoffman and daughter, Jean, left Acquidulla, Puerto Rico, early Sunday morning by Pan American clipper for Key West, Florida, on a return trip here. From Key West they will travel by train to Harrisburg, arriving Tuesday.

Mrs. McDermitt will be met in Harrisburg by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Redding, and her sister, Beatrice. Following a visit with Mr. McDermitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. McDermitt, New Cumberland, she will accompany her parents to Gettysburg for an extended visit.

Mr. McDermitt will join his wife here in December. For the last two years he has been employed by the Borken Air Base.

Local Couple Weds In Westminster: Miss Betty E. Hayberger, daughter of Mrs. Esther Hayberger, West High street, and Charles R. Rupp, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ray Rupp, Baltimore street, were united in marriage Sunday in Westminster, Maryland.

They were attended by Miss Hazel Buoh, East Water street, and Kenneth Tawney, West Middle street.

Mrs. Rupp graduated from Gettysburg high school in 1940. The bridegroom graduated from the local high school in 1932. At present he is affiliated with his father at the Gettysburg Steam laundry.

REFERS CRITICS OF LEADERSHIP TO CHURCHILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, at his press conference on Thursday, said that he would rather let associates over the years speak out on the question of his leadership. He said one of the things he treasures is a few paragraphs on that subject by former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who, he said, knows him better than some of his critics. Eisenhower was speaking in response to an inquiry about a statement by Stevenson in Kansas City last night that Eisenhower had shown "consistent rejection of the positive responsibilities of leadership."

MILTON—Eisenhower was even more emphatic in commenting on Stevenson's contention that the administration, through the President's brother Milton, appeased the Peron regime in Argentina.

Cites Truman Loans
On the matter of loans to the Argentine, Eisenhower told newsmen with some heat not to come to him with that. He said it was under the Truman administration that 130 million dollars in loans to the Peron government were authorized. That was in 1951, he said, and it wasn't a Republican government, it was a Democratic government.

Eisenhower said his administration has established 160 million dollars in credit for the new Argentine government, set up after Peron was ousted, and has studied ways of effective cooperation with it.

His brother Milton, Eisenhower said, helped news agencies regain facilities and operations in Argentina. And he said his brother never had acted except on the request of the State Department and

ACHESON—The President said that if the campaign is going to be settled on the basis of misleading wisecracks, then he thinks the betting on the outcome would be far different.

That was his response to a request for comment on a speech last night in which former Secretary of State Dean Acheson said the present administration "has seemed to be playing Russian roulette with an atomic pistol."

BIG WELCOME FOR STEVENSON AT ST. LOUIS

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
EN ROUTE WITH STEVENSON
(AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson heads into Indiana and Wisconsin today after firing away at what he termed Republican "chorus line" campaign techniques.

The Democratic presidential nominee scheduled a midday speech at Monument Circle in Indianapolis. Aides said he planned to speak at the Eisenhower administration again on the cost of living, which he has declared is "higher today than it has ever been."

From Indianapolis Stevenson arranged to fly on to Milwaukee for a nationwide television address tonight.

Rip-roaring Reception
The speech will be carried by CBS starting at 6:30 p.m., CST.

Stevenson got a rip-roaring reception last night in addressing a campaign rally in St. Louis, where he said the Soviet Union is "on schedule" with economy expansion plans "to pull level with America by 1965 and ahead by 1970."

Calling for campaign discussion of whether the United States economy "is expanding rapidly enough to meet essential demands," Stevenson added:

"We must face squarely and responsibly the prospect that 20 years from now, if present rates of development continue, the basic balance of productive power in the world may well have swung away from the side of freedom."

Delivers "Lecture"
At St. Louis Stevenson got by far the noisiest and most enthusiastic welcome of his eight-day campaign tour he started last Saturday.

Stevenson called his talk a "lecture." After hitting at GOP campaign procedure, he solemnly told a capacity crowd in the 3,000-seat Missouri Theatre:

"The great cauldron of the world is now seething to a boil, while our Republican friends say all is well and don't bother to even look at the stove."

"We know that the deadly (nuclear) fallout can kill over an area from St. Louis to New York—and we are still in the infancy of hydrogen explosions. Scientists tell us that the entire human species can survive only just so much atomic conflict—and not much, at that."

much, at that.

Republican Lullabies
"But hasn't this catastrophic possibility, too, become almost a cliché? How can its horrendous import be felt in heart and imagination if, all the time, the skies are filling with Republican lullabies?"

Stevenson prefaced his criticism of Republican campaigning with an announcement his theme would be "bread and circuses"—based on "how the Roman emperors in their declining years tried to keep the uneasy populace satisfied and their minds off their troubles with food and games, gladiatorial combats and spectacles."

He got a laugh from the crowd by departing from his prepared text to say that presidential campaigns seem to him "more like a bull fight" than a contest of gladiators.

"It is my extreme delicacy," he added, "which prevents me from saying which party is the bull."

"You Ain't Got It"

Then he said that not long ago he thought of the customs of the old Romans "when I read about the great Republican bandwagons that were going all over the country, complete with movies, jeeps,

"Babe" Never Really Asked God For Too Much . . . She Prayed"

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — "Babe" never really asked God for too much," big George sobbed.

He stood in a hospital corridor beside a stainless steel cartload of medicines, cotton pads and steel forceps. Four doors down the corridor, his wife, Babe Didrikson Zaharias, lay dying of cancer, which took her life near dawn yesterday.

"When she prayed she asked Him to ease the pain of everyone . . . not just her own. She never asked Him to win any tournaments for her," she said, praying Him to let her get well and she would do the rest.

"She never wanted anything but life," big George Zaharias said, and wept silently as he looked through a window at the blue Gulf of Mexico.

A Brave Person

By turning her tortured face only slightly, the Babe could see the Gulf, too. By now, though, even the slight movement of her head was an effort. Cancer had wasted the wondrous physique of the greatest woman athlete of the half century as sports writers called her, from 145 pounds to 80.

A doctor paused a moment before opening the door to Babe's room.

"Yes, Mrs. Zaharias has known for months that her case is hopeless," he said. "No, she never mentions it . . . she is a tremendously brave person."

As the doctor entered her room, Babe smiled wanly and whispered: "Well, what can you do for me today?"

"I can only advise you to rest," the physician responded cheerfully, seating himself in a leather chair.

"Is that all you have to offer?" her lips still held the faint smile.

"Always Live Full"

"That's about all, I'm afraid," When the doctor left he gave an order putting the Babe under continuous oxygen. "She is weakening rapidly," he said.

"Babe always lived full," George went on. "She lived to full enjoyment. When she got sick, she gave up everything as little as possible but every day she had to give up something. She loved those Swedish meatballs her sister, Lillie Grimes, used to bring her, and then she had to stop eating and they started feeding her through the veins. She liked to watch TV but finally she had to quit watching it and could only listen. Then came the day when she couldn't even listen any more and the TV set was turned off, for good."

"Let's Prepare Now"

"When the Babe and I first realized the score," George said, "we were both bitter. She was stronger than I am and she said 'let's prepare now and set our house in order.' I think she was trying to prepare us to be brave, but I'm not prepared. Hell, how do you get ready for a thing like this after 18 years of happy marriage? I had always hoped we would go out of this life together . . . that's how wonderful it's been!"

As the day wore on, the Babe's condition became increasingly grave. Relatives were summoned to the bedside.

Big George paced the hospital corridor.

"I Can't Talk"

Night fell. The doctor visited the Babe's room. When he emerged, he said: "It is only a question of time, now."

So labored was the Babe's breathing it was audible in the hall.

Big George tiptoed into the room. His wife's eyes seemed amazingly large and bright in her gaunt face.

She whispered: "I can't talk, money. I have to conserve my strength."

George came out of the room and walked far down the corridor. He punched one big fist into the other palm. He seemed like a man freshly awakened from a long dream.

The Last Round

"Good God," he said. "I didn't know until right now how great she really is. The last round has begun and she knows it's the last round and she's in there giving it all she's got!"

Hours later, the Babe opened her eyes and saw big George standing beside her. "I ain't gonna die, Honey," she whispered, and gasped. The five words cost a great effort.

They were her final words.

Three hours later she slept away into death. It was 6:34 a.m., Sept. 27, and the blue waters of the Gulf outside her window glistened with the sunlight of a new day.

REFERS CRITICS OF LEADERSHIP TO CHURCHILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—President Eisenhower, at his press conference on Thursday, said that he would rather let associates over the years speak out on the question of his leadership. He said one of the things he treasures is a few paragraphs on that subject by former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who, he said, knows him better than some of his critics. Eisenhower was speaking in response to a inquiry about a statement by Stevenson in Kansas City last night that Eisenhower had shown "corrosive" rejection of the positive responsibilities of leadership.

MILTON—Eisenhower was even more emphatic in commenting on Stevenson's contention that the administration, through the President's brother Milton, appeared the Peron regime in Argentina.

Gites Truman Loans

On the matter of loans to the Argentine, Eisenhower told newsmen with some heat not to come to him with that. He said it was under the Truman administration that 130 million dollars in loans to the Peron government were authorized. That was in 1951, he said, and it wasn't a Republican government. It was a Democratic government.

Eisenhower said his administration has established 160 million dollars in credit for the new Argentine government, set up after Peron was ousted, and has studied ways of effective cooperation with it.

His brother Milton, Eisenhower said, helped news agencies regain facilities and operations in Argentina. And he said his brother never had acted except on the request of the State Department and Eisenhower said he had asked the department for a report on his brother's operations and would put it out without comment when it becomes available.

ACHESON—The President said that if the campaign is going to be settled on the basis of misleading wisecracks, then he thinks the betting on the outcome would be far different.

That was his response to a request for comment on a speech last night in which former Secretary of State Dean Acheson said the present administration "has seemed to be playing Russian roulette with an atomic pistol."

BIG WELCOME FOR STEVENSON AT ST. LOUIS

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
EN ROUTE WITH STEVENSON
(AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson heads into Indiana and Wisconsin today after firing away at what he termed Republican "chorus line" campaign techniques.

The Democratic presidential nominee scheduled a midday speech at Monument Circle in Indianapolis. Aides said he planned to sweat at the Eisenhower administration again on the cost of living, which he has declared is "higher today than it has ever been."

From Indianapolis Stevenson arranged to fly on to Milwaukee for a nationwide television address tonight.

Rip-roaring Reception

The speech will be carried by CBS starting at 6:30 p.m., CST. Stevenson got a rip-roaring reception last night in addressing a campaign rally in St. Louis, where he said the Soviet Union is "on schedule" with economy expansion plans "to pull level with America by 1968 and ahead by 1970."

Calling for campaign discussion of whether the United States economy "is expanding rapidly enough to meet essential demands," Stevenson added:

"We must face squarely and responsibly the prospect that 30 years from now, if present rates of development continue, the basic balance of productive power in the world may well have swung away from the side of freedom."

Delivers "Lecture"

At St. Louis Stevenson got by far the noisiest and most enthusiastic welcome of this eight-day campaign tour he started last Saturday.

Stevenson called his talk a "lecture." After hitting at GOP campaign procedure, he solemnly told a capacity crowd in the 3,300-seat Missouri Theater:

"The great cauldron of the world is now seething to a boil, while our Republican friends say all is well and don't bother to even look at the stove."

"We know that the deadly (nuclear) fallout can kill over an area from St. Louis to New York—and we are still in the infancy of hydrogen explosions. Scientists tell us that the entire human species can survive only just so much atomic conflict—and not much, at that."

Republican Lullabies

"But hasn't this catastrophic possibility, too, become almost a cliché? How can its horrendous impact be felt in heart and imagination if, all the time, the skies are filling with Republican lullabies?"

Stevenson prefaced his criticism of Republican campaigning with an announcement his theme would be "bread and circuses" based on "how the Roman emperors in their declining years tried to keep the uneasy populace satisfied and their minds off their troubles with food and games, gladiatorial combats and spectacles."

He got a laugh from the crowd by departing from his prepared text to say that presidential campaigns seem to him "more like a bull fight" than a contest of gladiators.

"It is my extreme delicacy," he added, "which prevents me from saying which party is the bull."

"You Ain't Got It"

Then he said that not long ago he thought of the customs of the old Romans "when I read about the great Republican bandwagons that were going all over the country, complete with movies, jeeps, shot back. The crowd roared."

Taneytown

Trinity Lutheran, the Rev. Stanley B. Jennings, pastor, 18th Sunday after Trinity. Church School at 9 a.m.; the service at 10 a.m.; Luther League at 6:30 p.m. Monday, meeting of the Stewardship Committee at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Church Council meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, meeting of Brownie Troop 588 at 3:30 p.m.; Mite Society meeting at 7:30 p.m.; Brotherhood meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, service of Holy Communion at 7:30 p.m.

Girls and gads of all kinds—to sell Eisenhower and Nixon again to a docile, complacent, carefree people all happily chanting: "peace, prosperity and progress—ain't it wonderful?"

Someone in the audience yelled: "We don't want it."

"You ain't got it," Stevenson shot back. The crowd roared.

EXPENSES OF TOLL BRIDGE OPERATION CUT

MORRISVILLE, Pa. (P) — The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission—reorganized after the governors of Pennsylvania and New Jersey accused it of lavish spending—has approved tentative budgets which would cut expenditures by more than $500,000.

The commission yesterday approved $242,561 for operation of its free bridge budgets in the 1957-58 fiscal year and an $887,257 budget for its toll bridges during the next calendar year.

The 1956-57 free bridge budget was $409,762 and the 1956 toll bridge budget was $1,285,079.

The 1957-58 free bridge budget must be approved by the Pennsylvania and New Jersey state administrations and the 1957 toll bridge budget by the First Mechanics National Bank of Trenton, N.J., trustee for the commission's bondholders.

The commission's executive director, George L. Feaster, said about half of the cut in spending came through wage and salary slashes. He said the remaining saving was obtained by eliminating the bistate agency's teletype system, cutting out billboard advertising, and reducing other items.

He said the commission's budget et for travel expenses was cut from $20,500 to $1,000.

Feaster said slightly more than one million dollars would be spent for operation of the toll bridges during the current year, producing another saving of about $250,000.

The commission voted to approve a number of appointments made by Feaster despite objections from an attorney for one of its two Republican members. The commission is controlled by Democrats.

Had Too Much Power

Gene D. Smith, representing Pennsylvania Auditor-General Charles A. Barber, said the commission had given Feaster too much power when it authorized him to make the appointments.

Smith also criticized Feaster for "boasts" and "breast-beating" in saying that the commission had saved money by hiring officials at lower salaries than those previously paid.

Barber was not present at the meeting and Smith voted for him. Smith questioned three of the new appointees to show they had connections with the Pennsylvania Democratic organization.

William M. Norton of Phillipsburg, N.J., a Democratic member of the commission, questioned three others to show they were Republicans.

Ratify Appointments

The commission ratified these appointments:

Edward W. Denzler of Trenton, N.J., as chief engineer at $14,000 a year.

W. Kenneth Kinkead of Philadelphia as superintendent of bridge operation and maintenance at $12,000 a year.

Frank W. Sekela of Trenton as deputy comptroller at $7,000 a year.

Daniel R. Cahill of Bethlehem as assistant chief engineer at $11,000 a year.

24 Brownies Hike To Wiener Roast

Twenty-four Brownies of Scout Troop No. 45 enjoyed a hike on Wednesday after school. The girls left from the engine house and hiked to the home of their leader, Mrs. John Kump, near town, where a wiener roast was held. Assisting the leaders, Mrs. Kump, Mrs. Emerson F. Muller and Mrs. William R. Keefe as hostesses were Peggy Altoff, Sally Bankert, Sharon Zumbrum, Barbara Muller, Rebecca Keagy.

The Brownies decided that in observance of each member's birthday, the celebrant will give a contribution to the birthday bank, which will be given as a gift from the troop to the Juliette Low Fund at the annual rally in the spring. Announcement was made that the current project of making Christmas package tags will be continued at the regular meeting of the troop next Wednesday in the engine house, at 3:30 p.m. Each Brownie is asked to take along a pair of scissors and used Christmas cards.

Close-up of a nerve?

No. It's just a rope... at the breaking point. But, frankly, it's a good illustration of how a man feels when his nerves are "worn to a frazzle."

The Church has never claimed that religion is a cure for frazzled nerves. But a man's Christian faith does this for him:

It shows him a Purpose in life more important than mere existence. It shows him a Power more effective than his own strength. It shows him a Future more rewarding than selfish gain. And it gives him courage more lasting than the sheer force of his human will.

With these spiritual resources, founded in the certainty that God understands and helps, a man never reaches "the breaking point." For when his human reserve is exhausted... he has only begun to tap the vast reservoir of Divine Strength.

THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE CAN SHOW YOU THE WAY!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE GREAT INVITATION

Revelation 22:1-5, 8-9, 16-21

Key Verse: The Spirit and the Bride say, "Come." And let him who hears say, "Come." And let him who is thirsty come. Let him who desires take the water of life without price. Revelation 22:17

The development of Revelation is straight-forward and consistent and there is uniformity of style throughout. The author drew heavily on other Apocalyptic literature, using much of the same symbolism used in Daniel and Ezekiel which in turn, may have been borrowed from ancient Babylonian or Persian mythology. At least he used the devices at hand and filled them with new meaning. The Christian symbolism in Revelation is likely the author's own.

Revelation was a message to the seven churches for that particular time and must be interpreted as such. It was not intended as a prophecy of the future course of the Church for the author expected the world to end quickly. This can be readily seen from the urgency of the message. We do know, however, that it was intended primarily to strengthen the members' faith and to comfort them in their hours of persecution and suffering.

"Gather Around Throne"

The grand climax of this unusual account seems to come when the redeemed gather around the throne of God in heaven, praising Him forever and ever. This vision of the New Jerusalem was comforting to those who were in the midst of cruel persecutions. The same voices from this ancient book seem to sound through the ages, giving meaning and substance to the history of the Church as it moved forward confidently under the banner of Christ,

No. It's just a rope . . . at the breaking point. But, frankly, it's a good illustration of how a man feels when his nerves are "worn to a frazzle."

The Church has never claimed that religion is a cure for frazzled nerves. But a man's Christian faith does this for him:

It shows him a Purpose in life more important than mere existence. It shows him a Power more effective than his own strength. It shows him a Future more rewarding than selfish gain. And it gives him courage more lasting than the sheer force of his human will.

With these spiritual resources, founded in the certainty that God understands and helps, a man never reaches "the breaking point." For when his human reserve is exhausted . . . he has only begun to tap the vast reservoir of Divine Strength.

THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE CAN SHOW YOU THE WAY!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE GREAT INVITATION

Revelation 22:1-5, 8-9, 16-21
Key Verse: "Come." The Spirit and the Bride say, "Come." And let him who hears say, "Come." And let him who is thirsty come, let him who desires take the water of life without price. Revelation 22:17.

The development of Revelation is straight-forward and consistent and there is uniformity of style throughout. The author drew heavily on other Apocalyptic literature, using much of the same symbolism used in Daniel and Ezekiel which, in turn, may have been borrowed from ancient Babylonian or Persian mythology. At least he used the devices at hand and filled them with new meaning. The Christian symbolism in Revelation is likely the author's own.

Revelation was a message to the seven churches for that particular time and must be interpreted as such. It was not intended as a prophecy of the future course of the Church for the author expected the world to end quickly. This can be readily seen from the urgency of the message. We do know, however, that it was intended primarily to strengthen the members' faith and to comfort them in their hours of persecution and suffering.

"Gather Around Throne"

The grand climax of this unusual account seems to come when the redeemed gather around the throne of God in heaven, praising Him forever and ever. This vision of the New Jerusalem was comforting to those who were in the midst of cruel persecutions. The same voices from this ancient book seem to sound through the ages, giving meaning and substance to the history of the Church as it moved forward confidently under the banner of Christ, the Savior.

This week's lesson includes the account of how the angel shows John all the wonders of the heavenly city. Another ray of hope is extended to the current readers — "They shall see his face, and his name shall be on their foreheads." This means that they would be easily recognized as God's children, and no doubt the idea came from the practice of branding slaves on the forehead with their master's name or mark.

All these things were heard and seen in the vision of John which he freely and proudly proclaims. He brings the final dialogue between himself and the angel of the Lord to a close in Chapter 22:16-17. This is the great invitation which comes from God and which is transmitted to men through the power of the Holy Spirit and by the Bride or Church. Both the Spirit and the Church say, "Come." Then the hearers, the numbers of the Christian Church must go one step further and say, "Come." Herein lies the strength of lay evangelism—every one witnessing to the saving grace of his Lord and Savior.

Mark Of A Christian

This invitation will always be the mark of a true Christian and his concern about spreading the good news of Jesus Christ. In Jesus' teaching He repeatedly said, "Come unto Me." But not everyone is ready or willing to accept the invitation or to follow the path of Christian faith and action. Three things are needed to be worthy of acceptance: (1) Repentance and faith through the Holy Spirit; (2) a knowledge of the sacred Scriptures which demands study and meditation; and (3) the willingness to learn God's will for us and the grace to accept it gladly.

When people fail to respond to this invitation real missionary strategy must be used. And when Christians lose the zeal to evangelize their neighbors, whether on this side of the water or overseas, they lose Christ. This can never happen if they catch the vision of the seer of Patmos.

Fisherman Angles Easy Daily Double

ELY, Minn. (U) — Guide Ernie Landgren picked up a daily double the easy way. While one of his guests was reeling in a whitefish a big 10-pound northern pike clamped his jaws on the hooked finny.

The pike was persistent. He stayed with the whitefish until both reached the boat. Landgren calmly swooped both in with a net.

EVERYONE WELCOME

EXPENSES OF TOLL BRIDGE OPERATION CUT

MORRISVILLE, Pa. (P) — The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission—reorganized after the governors of Pennsylvania and New Jersey accused it of lavish spending—has approved tentative budgets which would cut expenditures by more than $500,000.

The commission yesterday approved $242,561 for operation of its free bridge budgets in the 1957-58 fiscal year and an $887,257 budget for its toll bridges during the next calendar year.

The 1956-57 free bridge budget was $409,762 and the 1956 toll bridge budget was $1,285,079.

The 1957-58 free bridge budget must be approved by the Pennsylvania and New Jersey state administrations and the 1957 toll bridge budget by the First Mechanics National Bank of Trenton, N.J., trustee for the commission's bondholders.

The commission's executive director, George L. Feaster, said about half of the cut in spending came through wage and salary slashes. He said the remaining saving was obtained by eliminating the bistate agency's teletype system, cutting out billboard advertising, and reducing other items.

He said the commission's budget for travel expenses was cut from $20,500 to $1,000.

Feaster said slightly more than one million dollars would be spent for operation of the toll bridges during the current year, producing another saving of about $250,000.

The commission voted to approve a number of appointments made by Feaster despite objections from an attorney for one of its two Republican members. The commission is controlled by Democrats.

Had Too Much Power

Gene D. Smith, representing Pennsylvania Auditor-General Charles A. Barber, said the commission had given Feaster too much power when it authorized him to make the appointments.

Smith also criticized Feaster for "boasts" and "breast-beating" in saying that the commission had saved money by hiring officials at lower salaries than those previously paid.

Barber was not present at the meeting and Smith voted for him. Smith questioned three of the new appointees to show they had connections with the Pennsylvania Democratic organization.

William M. Norton of Phillipsburg, N.J., a Democratic member of the commission, questioned three others to show they were Republicans.

Ratify Appointments

The commission ratified these appointments:

Edward W. Denler of Trenton, N.J., as chief engineer at $14,000 a year.

W. Kenneth Kinkead of Philadelphia as superintendent of bridge operation and maintenance at $12,000 a year.

Frank W. Sekela of Trenton as deputy comptroller at $7,000 a year.

Daniel R. Cahill of Bethlehem as assistant chief engineer at $11,000 a year.

Warren E. Long of Morrisville as comptroller at $10,000 a year.

John C. Whelan of Morrisville as supervisor of the Morrisville-Trenton toll bridge at $7,000 a year.

Alfred W. Seiss of Alpha, N.J., as New Jersey attorney for the commission at $3,000 a year.

John H. Golden of Princeton, N.J., as supervisor of maintenance at $5,500 a year.

Patrick J. Mazza of Easton as assistant maintenance supervisor at $7,000 a year.

James C. Bowen of Sellersville as Pennsylvania attorney at $3,000 a year.

JAYCEES PLAN

Thomas Metz, chairman of the Christmas Stocking project, appointed Edward Paris as fraternal organizations chairman; and Magnus Flaws as chairman for sales at the college fraternities.

Arthur Eckert reported on plans of the Jaycees to participate in the Community Chest drive at a dinner and canvass October 8.

The resignation of Lindale Brandon as a member because of his moving to York was accepted with regret.

In Two Halloween Parades

President Harold Eckert reported six reservations for the district Jaycee meeting to be held at the Hotel Stevens, Lancaster, tonight at which Wendell Ford, national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be the speaker.

Paul Reaver, Halloween float chairman, announced the Jaycee float will appear in the Gettysburg and Hanover parades and possibly several others.

Magnus Flaws reported on attendance of a number of the Jaycees at an Orioles-Yankee ball game at Baltimore and on plans to attend a play "Bus Stop" on October 19.

Two Get Certificates

Flaws also announced inauguration of a "Speak Up" program in the local club. Under the program members will be called upon from time to time, without prior warning, to give five minute extemporaneous talks as a means of developing the speaking abilities of the membership.

The local Jaycees and the past president of the club, John Y. Crow, received certificates for outstanding work last year in civic service projects. The certificates were presented by the National Jaycees.

Thomas Metz reported on a Middle Atlantic Institute held at Wilmington, Delaware, by the National Jaycees and also reported on a regional meeting to be held October 13 and 14 at Reading.

OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED BY PARISH COUNCIL

New officers were installed at the September meeting of St. Aloysius Parish Council of Catholic Women on Wednesday evening in the parish hall. Mrs. Robert J. Eckenrode, retiring president, conducted the ceremonies, which preceded the business session. Each of the incoming officers was given Our Lady, in one of her various titles, as her patroness.

The new officers are: President, Mrs. J. Harold Redding; vice president, Mrs. Thomas French; secretary, Mrs. Charles Hood; treasurer, Miss Anna C. Weaver. Following reports from Mrs. French and Mrs. Z. W. Sanders, the new president appointed the standing committee chairmen, including: Bishop's Fund for Diocesan Needs, Mrs. Ivan D. Rickrode; Civil Defense, Mrs. George P. Smith; Cooperation with Catholic Charities, Mrs. Stewart N. Long and Mrs. William V. Sneringer; co-chairmen; discussion club, Miss Anna C. Weaver; Family and Parent Education, Mrs. Bernard Kuhns; Foreign Relief services, Mrs. Regina Arter; Hospitality, Mrs. John R. Rudisill; Immigration, Mrs. Merle Little; Inter-American and International Relations, Mrs. Donald L. Beford; Libraries and Literature, Mrs. C. Donald Bower; Organization and Development, Mrs. Thomas French; Social Action, Mrs. Bernard M. Selby; Spiritual Development, Mrs. Kenneth Stuller; Youth, Mrs. Leo Riley, and public relations, Mrs. Paul E. Altoff.

Announce Institute
Announcement was made that the nursery conducted for the past several Sundays in the school, for pre-school children, during the late mass, will be continued for several more weeks, or until it is learned if this service is necessary or wanted by parents. Mrs. Redding will be in charge of the nursery on Sunday; Mrs. Stewart N. Long on October 7, and Mrs. Francis Prato on October 14. Notes of thanks were read from Mrs. Raymond Slagle and Mrs. C. Donald Bower.

It was announced that there will be an Institute for the Conewago and York Deaneys on Sunday, October 28, at 2 p.m., in Deleone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, which all deanery and parish chairmen should attend in order to acquaint themselves with the work of their committee and with the program for the coming year. The annual pilgrimage to the tomb of Mother Seton, St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, for members and their families, sponsored by the Conewago Deanery Council of Catholic Women, will take place on Sunday at 1:30 p.m. The next quarterly meeting of the Conewago Deanery Council will be held on Sunday, October 14, at St. Andrew's Parish, Waynesboro. It was voted that in the future, election of officers will continue to be held at the April session, and installation will follow in May, instead of September. The pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle, thanked the women who had assisted with the serving the Holy Name breakfast recently and with Forty Hours Devotion.

Gathering Stamps
It was suggested that members who do not save S and H green stamps for themselves accept the stamps along with their purchases and save them for the council, in order to secure some needed equipment in the parish kitchen. The duties of the parish hospitality chairman were outlined for the benefit of the incoming chairman. It was decided to omit the annual food sale, sponsored by the council, in favor of the three-day Thanksgiving bazaar, which will be held this year by the congregation and its organization.

Preliminary plans were made for the annual Halloween party for the children of the school, and the following committee were appointed to be in charge of arrangements: Mrs. Redding, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Prato, Mrs. Eckenrode, Mrs. Rudisill, Mrs. Stuller and Mrs. Smith. It was voted to purchase oilcloth for the tables in the parish kitchen and in the recreation room of the school; also to provide a re-fill of all necessary equipment for the first-aid kit in the parochial school. Father Boyle explained the need for an electric eye chart in the school, to facilitate the testing of pupils' eyes, when their physical examinations are given. The council voted to finance the purchase of the chart, as needed, and the pastor will arrange the purchase.

Plan Donation Party
Plans were furthered for the open house and donation party for the Sisters, who teach in the school, as discussed at a previous meeting. The affair will be held on Sunday, October 7, 2:30 p.m., in the parish hall and all of the school children, their parents and all other interested parishioners are invited to attend. Every family will be contacted by a woman of the parish sometime during the coming week. There will be a brief program by the children and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will follow in the church.

The guess package, given by Mrs. Herbert Frock, was won by Miss Anna Weaver. The opening prayer in honor of Our Lady of Good Counsel and the closing prayers for vocations were led by Father Boyle. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of business. A shrine, in honor of the Sacred Heart was arranged in the center of the hall.

The Parish Council will meet again on Wednesday, October 24, and the following will comprise the program and hostess committee: Mrs. Thomas French, Mrs. William H. Anthony, Mrs. Edward G. Loeffel, Miss Elsie McCall, Mrs. Henry F. Storm, Mrs. John F. Busbey, Mrs. Robert Bevenour, Mrs. Mary O'Brien and Miss Mary Redding.

Former Littlestown High School Teacher Inspired College Prexy To Seek Education

MISS HAWK

Dr. Eric Arthur Walker on October 1 will become president of Penn State University and he said recently in an interview that it was Miss M. Adelaide Hawk, Littlestown High School graduate and former teacher there, who interested him in learning while he was a pupil in the Wrightsville, York County, High School as a boy of 16. She was a science teacher in the high school there at that time.

Now Miss Hawk, who often visits in Adams County and was in Littlestown last on Labor Day, resides in Philadelphia where she has been a member of the public school teaching staff since 1926. She is now supervisor of the Division of Pupil Personnel and Counseling in District 7 of the city schools.

To Philadelphia In '26
Miss Hawk, a native of Carroll County, Md., was graduated from Littlestown High School some 35 years ago and went into the teaching profession after training at a state teachers' college. She taught science in Littlestown High for a year or two and then served in Wrightsville until 1926 when she went to Philadelphia where she earned a master's degree at Temple University.

Miss Hawk and her connection with the career of Dr. Walker were the subject of a feature story in last Sunday's magazine section of the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The story by Edgar Williams tells of this incident recounted by Dr. Walker:

Recalls Mouse Incident
"One day in 1924, Eric Walker, a high school freshman in Wrightsville, Pa., placed a live mouse in his biology teacher's desk. Inasmuch as the teacher was a woman, young Walker waited expectantly for shrieks. But when the teacher—M. Adelaide Hawk—opened her desk, she did not scream. Impassively she watched the mouse scamper off. Then she remarked that this was an illustration of how mice flee when they see a Hawk."

"After that Walker had profound respect for his teacher and frequently sought her counsel. 'She gave it freely,' he has said many times since, 'and some of her great enthusiasm for science rubbed off on me. I hadn't planned to go to college. But Miss Hawk instilled in me the desire to continue my education.'"

Next week he becomes the 12th president in Penn State's 101-year history when he succeeds Dr. Milton Eisenhower, soon to become head of Johns Hopkins University.

Seniors Congratulations
One of the first congratulatory messages Dr. Walker received when he was chosen for the presidency came from Miss Hawk. She remembers him as "a popular boy and a brilliant student." She does not recall the mouse incident, nor does she feel that her role in shaping Dr. Walker's career was noteworthy. "With his mind and personality," Miss Hawk declares, "he would have succeeded at anything. He was interested in deep things but he was no duds."

Last November, Dr. Walker, an electrical engineer, became vice president of Penn State. He had worked after school and summer while a high school student and then after graduation went to Harvard University on a scholarship. Odd jobs helped keep him there seven years while he earned three degrees, a BS in electrical engineering, an MS in business administration and an ScD in engineering and general science. He began teaching at Tufts College in Medford, Mass., later going to the University of Connecticut. During the second World War he was called to Harvard as associate director of the Harvard Underwater Sound Laboratory where he headed a group of scientists. They worked on the homing torpedo, which knocked out the German submarine menace. He went to Penn State in 1945 as head of the Ordnance Research Laboratory.

Young Men's Class Meets At Redeemer's

The Young Men's Class of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed Church held its first fall meeting in the church social hall on Wednesday evening. The pastor, the Rev. Porter W. Seiwel, gave the opening prayer. President Glenn S. Kauffman Jr., presided.

There was a discussion concerning having a second entrance made into the basement. Since there is only one door in the room, it was decided not to use the room until another entrance is constructed, as a fire precaution. President Kauffman appointed the class teacher, Dr. Richard M. Phreaner, Lloyd R. Baker and Norman J. Hahn to serve as a committee and meet with the Consistory, to present the matter of having a doorway cut into their meeting room.

A report was heard from John W. Hankey, secretary. The Rev. Mr. Seiwel, Harold O. Sentz and Monroe J. Staveland were selected to serve as hosts at the next meeting on Wednesday, October 24. The session concluded with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. Refreshments were served to the group by Dr. Phreaner, D. William W. Seibert and Alee F. Rebert.

OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED BY PARISH COUNCIL

New officers were installed at the September meeting of St. Aloysius Parish Council of Catholic Women on Wednesday evening in the parish hall. Mrs. Robert J. Eckenrode, retiring president, conducted the ceremonies, which preceded the business session. Each of the incoming officers was given Our Lady, in one of her various titles, as her patroness.

The new officers are: President, Mrs. J. Harold Redding; vice president, Mrs. Thomas French; secretary, Mrs. Charles Hood; treasurer, Miss Anna C. Weaver. Following reports from Mrs. French and Mrs. Z. W. Sanders, the new president appointed the standing committee chairmen, including: Bishop's Fund for Diocesan Needs, Mrs. Ivan D. Rickrode; Civil Defense, Mrs. George P. Smith; Cooperation with Catholic Charities, Mrs. Stewart N. Long and Mrs. William V. Sneringer, co-chairmen; discussion club, Miss Anna C. Weaver; Family and Parent Education, Mrs. Bernard Kuhns; Foreign Relief services, Mrs. Regina Arter; Hospitality, Mrs. John R. Rudisill; Immigration, Mrs. Merle Little; Inter-American and International Relations, Mrs. Donald I. Belford; Libraries and Literature, Mrs. C. Donald Bowser; Organization and Development, Mrs. Thomas French; Social Action, Mrs. Bernard M. Selby; Spiritual Development, Mrs. Kenneth Stuller; Youth, Mrs. Leo Riley, and public relations, Mrs. Paul E. Altoff.

Announce Institute
Announcement was made that the nursery conducted for the past several Sundays in the school, for pre-school children, during the late mass, will be continued for several more weeks, or until it is learned if this service is necessary or wanted by parents. Mrs. Redding will be in charge of the nursery on Sunday; Mrs. Stewart N. Long on October 7, and Mrs. Francis Prato on October 14. Notes of thanks were read from Mrs. Raymond Sigle and Mrs. C. Donald Bowser.

It was announced that there will be an Institute for the Conewago and York Deaneeries on Sunday, October 28, at 2 p.m., in Delone Catholic High School, McSherrytown, which all deanery and parish chairmen should attend in order to acquaint themselves with the work of their committee and with the program for the coming year. The annual pilgrimage to the tomb of Mother Seton, St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, for members and their families, sponsored by the Conewago Deanery Council of Catholic Women, will take place on Sunday at 1:30 p.m. The next quarterly meeting of the Conewago Deanery Council will be held on Sunday, October 14, at St. Andrew's Parish, Waynesboro. It was voted that in the future, election of officers will continue to be held at the April session, and installation will follow in May, instead of September. The pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle, thanked the women who had assisted with the serving the Holy Name breakfast recently and with Forty Hours Devotion.

Gathering Stamps
It was suggested that members who do not save S and H green stamps for themselves accept the stamps along with their purchases and save them for the council, in order to secure some needed equipment in the parish kitchen. The duties of the parish hospitality chairman were outlined for the benefit of the incoming chairman. It was decided to omit the annual food sale, sponsored by the council, in favor of the three-day Thanksgiving bazaar, which will be held this year by the congregation and its organization.

Preliminary plans were made for the annual Halloween party for the children of the school, and the following committee were appointed to be in charge of arrangements: Mrs. Redding, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Prato, Mrs. Eckenrode, Mrs. Rudisill, Mrs. Stuller and Mrs. Smith. It was voted to purchase oilcloth for the tables in the parish kitchen and in the recreation room of the school; also to provide a re-fill of all necessary equipment for the first-aid kit in the parochial school. Father Boyle explained the need for an electric eye chart in the school, to facilitate the testing of pupils' eyes, when their physical examinations are given. The council voted to finance the purchase of the chart, as needed, and the pastor will arrange the purchase.

Plan Donation Party
Plans were furthered for the open house and donation party for the Sisters, who teach in the school, as discussed at a previous meeting. The affair will be held on Sunday,

A former Littlestown High School teacher is credited by the next president of Pennsylvania State University with inspiring him to study and to set his sights on a college education.

Dr. Eric Arthur Walker on October 1 will become president of Penn State University and he said recently in an interview that it was Miss M. Adelaide Hawk, Littlestown High School graduate and former teacher there, who interested him in learning while he was a pupil in the Wrightsville, York County, High School as a boy of 16. She was a science teacher in the high school there at that time.

Now Miss Hawk, who often visits in Adams County and was in Littlestown last on Labor Day, resides in Philadelphia where she has been a member of the public school teaching staff since 1926. She is now supervisor of the Division of Pupil Personnel and Counseling in District 7 of the city schools.

To Philadelphia in '26
Miss Hawk, a native of Carroll County, Md., was graduated from Littlestown High School some 35 years ago and went into the teaching profession after training at a state teachers' college. She taught science in Littlestown High for a year or two and then served in Wrightsville until 1926 when she went to Philadelphia where she earned a master's degree at Temple University.

Miss Hawk and her connection with the career of Dr. Walker were the subject of a feature story in last Sunday's magazine section of the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The story by Edgar Williams tells of this incident recounted by Dr. Walker:

Recalls Mouse Incident
"One day in 1924, Eric Walker, a high school freshman in Wrightsville, Pa., placed a live mouse in his biology teacher's desk. Inasmuch as the teacher was a woman, young Walker waited expectantly for shrieks. But when the teacher—M. Adelaide Hawk—opened her desk, she did not scream. Impassively she watched the mouse scamper off. Then she remarked that this was an illustration of how mice flee when they see a Hawk."

"After that Walker had profound respect for his teacher and frequently sought her counsel. 'She gave it freely,' he has said many times since, 'and some of her great enthusiasm for science rubbed off on me. I hadn't planned to go to college. But Miss Hawk instilled in me the desire to continue my education.'"

Next week he becomes the 12th president in Penn State's 101-year history when he succeeds Dr. Milton Eisenhower, soon to become head of Johns Hopkins University.

Sent Congratulations
One of the first congratulatory messages Dr. Walker received when he was chosen for the presidency came from Miss Hawk. She remembers him as "a popular boy and a brilliant student." She does not recall the mouse incident, nor does she feel that her role in shaping Dr. Walker's career was noteworthy.

"With his mind and personality," Miss Hawk declares, "he would have succeeded at anything. He was interested in deep things but he was no drudge."

Last November, Dr. Walker, an electrical engineer, became vice president of Penn State. He had worked after school and summer while a high school student and then after graduation went to Harvard University on a scholarship.

Odd jobs helped keep him there seven years while he earned three degrees, a BS in electrical engineering, an MS in business administration, and an ScD in engineering and general science. He began teaching at Tufts College in Medford, Mass., later going to the University of Connecticut. During the second World War he was called to Harvard as associate director of the Harvard Underwater Sound Laboratory where he headed a group of scientists. They worked on the homing torpedo, which knocked out the German submarine menace. He went to Penn State in 1945 as head of the Ordnance Research Laboratory.

Young Men's Class Meets At Redeemer's

The Young Men's Class of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed Church held its first fall meeting in the church social hall on Wednesday evening. The pastor, the Rev. Porter W. Seiwel, gave the opening prayer. President Glenn S. Kauffman Jr., presided.

There was a discussion concerning having a second entrance made into the class meeting room in the basement. Since there is only one door in the room, it was decided not to use the room until another entrance is constructed, as a fire precaution. President Kauffman appointed the class teacher, Dr. Richard M. Phreaner, Lloyd R. Baker and Norman J. Hahn to serve as a committee and meet with the Consistory, to present the matter of having a doorway cut into their meeting room.

A report was heard from John W. Hankey, secretary. The Rev. Mr. Seiwel, Harold O. Sentz and Monroe J. Stavely were selected to serve as hosts at the next meeting on Wednesday, October 24. The session concluded with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. Refreshments were served to the group by Dr. Phreaner, D. William W. Seibert and Alice F. Rebert.

Northeast Safe From "Flossy"

NEW YORK (AP)—The Northeast,
apparently safe from the weakening storm Flossy, is in for some nor'easter weather today extending from Cape May, N.J., to Cape Ann, Mass.

The Washington Weather Bureau at 6 a.m. termed Flossy "a diffuse elongated center of light winds" expected to continue moving slowly northeastward over the Atlantic Ocean.

Winds were termed strongest along the Delaware-New Jersey coast, with gusts up to 40 miles per hour. High winds were expected all along the New England coast.

Storm warnings still were out from Cape May to Cape Ann, and high tides in coastal areas were predicted.

Lack Of Education "Great Handicap"

Dr. Finnis E. Engleman, executive secretary of the American Assn. of School Administrators, spoke yesterday at the closing session of the annual two-day Education Congress.

Northeast Safe From "Flossy"

NEW YORK (AP)—The Northeast, apparently safe from the weakening storm Flossy, is in for some no-easter weather today extending from Cape May, N.J., to Cape Ann, Mass.

The Washington Weather Bureau at 6 a.m. termed Flossy "a diffuse elongated center of light winds" expected to continue moving slowly northeastward over the Atlantic Ocean.

Winds were termed strongest along the Delaware-New Jersey coast, with gusts up to 40 miles per hour. High winds were expected all along the New England coast.

Storm warnings still were out from Cape May to Cape Ann, and high tides in coastal areas were predicted.

Lack Of Education "Great Handicap"

HARRISBURG (AP)—A leading national education administrator maintains lack of education among the populace today is a greater handicap to the nation than it was a generation ago.

Dr. Flinnis E. Engleman, executive secretary of the American Assn. of School Administrators, spoke yesterday at the closing session of the annual two-day Education Congress.

Sunday School at 10:15 a.m.; Sunday School at 10:15 a.m. Wednesday, Consistory meeting at 8 p.m. October 7. Holy Communion at 10:15 a.m.
